ACADEMY IS VICTORIOUS

They Win From the Philipsburg High School on Saturday.

A CLOSE AND EXCITING GAME

Neither Side Scored in the First Half But the Visitors Weakened in the Second and Two Touchdowns and One Goal Were Scored by the Academy Boys.

Lovers of foot ball were treated to an exciting game at the glassworks meadow on Saturday afternoon. The original schedule was Academy vs. Williamsport High School but the latter postponed their game and the Philipsburg High School boys were arranged with on Friday evening. They arrived in Bellefonte early Saturday morning having driven over from their home. They spent the morning in taking in the sights around town and in the afternoon they donned their canvass suits and repaired to the field of battle. When both teams appeared on the field they were loudly applauded. The game was scheduled for 3 o'clock and promptly at that hour the Academy kicked off and sent the ball well into their enemy's territory. A series of rushes brought the ball almost to the Philipsburg goal line when it was lost on a fumble and a kick immediately sent it out of danger. During the first part of the half the ball was kept in the visitor's territory until towards the close when it was gradually pushed around the middle. The visitors were playing a fast snappy game and were trying their best to score. This they were unable to do although at times they made fair gains through the Academy rush line. The first half ended with no score on either side.

The second half commenced by a kick off from the visitors. The ball was caught and well advanced before the runner was dounedtand then the home boys got down to hard work. In five minutes after play had commenced they scored their first touchdown by irresistable rushes through the enemy's line. No goal was kicked. Score: Academy 4, Philipsburg 0.

The ball was again put in play but the visitors were fast weakening and another touchdown was made in a few minutes. Hughes kicked the goal. Score 10 to 0 in favor of the Academy.

After this the visitors took a brace and played a slightly stronger defensive game and when time was called the ball was near the 25yd. line, in the Philipsburg ground.

The playing of Henderson, Lane, Curtin, Cochran and Capt. Hughes was fine and their many hard tackles and brilliant runs won rounds of applause. For the visitors Copeland, Ayres and Row put up an exceptionally good game and their quick tackling was responsible for the Academy's small score. The game was free from any unpleasantness whatever and the gentlemanly conduct of the Philipsburg boys made many friends for them. We hope they will come back soon, and when they do, they will be warmly welcomed. The line-up of the teams was as follows;

Schuylkill Classis Divided.

Pottsville, Nov. 12.—A conference of the ministers and elders of the Old Schuylkill Classis of the Reformed church was held here to-day in Trinity Reformed Church for the purpose of effecting a division of the classis. Rev. S. Bridenbaugh, of Reading, was in the chair, and W. J Muir, of Tremont, acted as stated clerk.

It was decided that all the pastors and charges south of the Blue Mountain in Berks county will constitute the new classis of Reading. Since the president and Treasurer Rev. J. W. Steinmetz were both of Reading, new men had to be elected to fill the vacancies. Rev. Robert O'Boyle, of Shenandoah, was chosen president, and Rev. O. H. Strunck, of Schuylkill Haven, treasurer. The old classis was one of the most influential in the denomination.

WELL KNOWN HERE.

A Young Lady Who Had Many Bellefonte Friends Passes Away.

Alice Francis Bruce, who with her mother last winter were the guests of Edward T. Tuten, editor of the Republican, died at her home at Mount Vernon N. H., on Tuesday afternoon, aged 21 years. Miss Bruce was a niece of Mr. Tuten, and during her stay in Bellefonte made many friends who will mourn her sad death. That dread disease, consumption, fastened its unrelenting grip on her and when she left Bellefonte she was quite ill. She never rallied and death finally separated the soul from the body. The sad news announcing her death will be a great blow to her friends in this community for by her many accomplishments and kind and pleasing ways she endeared herself to all with whom she came in contact. She gave promise of a brilliant future before her but all her fond hopes have thus ruthlessly been blasted by that grim destroyer of humanity—death. Just budding into womanhood it makes it all the harder to bear; yet when we think of the mysterious ways of the Almightly we know that it is only to another and better world she has been called. The funeral will be held on Friday afternoon at I o'clock from her late home in New Hampshire.

A Slight Mistake.

On Tuesday afternoon a well dressed man was leisurely making his way up High street and upon reaching the Diamond he espied flames coming out of the tar pavement in several different places. A heap of dirt was in the road and the stranger almost broke his neck in trying to get over it in his mad rush to the Court house. Upon reaching the Temple of Justice he asked a clerk who owned the land where the flames were coming up and being told it was Borough property he at once commenced to hunt up some of the officials with the intention of buying the land as he thought there was natural gas in the region. He offered a princely price for the land only to be refused. He then went back to where he saw the flames emerging and looking into a hole where a man was working he said: "would you kindly lend me your pick for a moment?" He was almost knocked off his pins where the mud covored laborer curtly replied: "Go on you bloke, you can't steal my job." He didn't buy the land.

Beech Creek Connection.

The Lock Haven Democrat says: The citizens of Franklin, Venango county have secured right of way through that county to build a railroad, which will give the Beech Creek railroad another connection. The line will be extended from Franklin into Clearfield county, and will constitute the connecting link in a great through line between Chicago, Philadelphia and New York. It will shorten the distance between Franklin ond Philadelphia about 53 miles. Its completion will give the Lake Shore or Vanderbilt system a great advantage in freight and passenger traffic. The line to be built eastward from Franklin, will pass along the south bank of the Allegheny crossing at East Sandy, thence up that stream to a branch, passing near Clarion and on to its Clearfield terminus. It will tap the finest coking coal in Pennsylvania and also the best timber regions in the states east of Wisconsin.

Narrow Escapes.

What might have resulted in a serious accident occurred at the Baptist chapel in the rear of the church of that denomination Tuesday forenoon says the Dubois Courier. The building is occupied by Miss Mary Martin's kindergarten school and is heated by natural gas. The gas is turned off over night. When, yesterday, it was essayed to light it there was an explosion on a small scale, the stove was upset, the pipe knocked down and one of Miss Martin's hands quite severely but not seriously burned. The accident was the result of the gas leaking. Had the leak been greater or had it existed for a longer time serious consequences might have resulted.

The White City.

The Tennessee Centennial Exposition will be another White City. The management has ordered all buildings to be constructed of white staff, and the designs to be either Colonial or Greek. The Fine Arts Building, which will stand in the centre of the plan, will be a reproduction of the Parthenon, the famous temple of Phydias.

A Return Game.

The Philipsburg Journal says: A return game of foot ball will be played between the Bellefonte and Philipsburg high school teams in this place on Saturday afternoon, Nov. 23, at the driving park. The Philipsburg boys are expecting to win back the laurels they lost in last Saturday's game.

DEAD FOR THREE WEEKS

Henry Fry of Po ers Mills Found in Long Mounain.

SHO THROUGH THE HEART.

His Clothes Burned Almost Off His Body—Thought to Have Been Out of His Mind.

About three weeks ago the people of Potters Mills were startled by the disappearance of Henry Fry, aged about 68 or 70 years. Searching parties have been scouring the mountains but their efforts had proven futile. Vague rumors were constantly afloat relative to his disapperance but every clew obtainable was ferreted out and still their eflorts were unrewarded and the whereabouts of the missing man were as much of a mystery as ever. The search however never lagged for an instant for it was feared some possible injury might befall the man, whom by this time they were led to believe was demented. All hope of ever finding him was almost abandoned when on Tuesday afternoon Messrs. Searfoss and Valentine were out hunting and suddenly came across him about half way down Long mountain. The man had shot himself through the heart with a load of buck shot and death must have come instantly. The muzzle of the gun was evidently pressed close against him as his clothes were badly burned. There is no telling just how long he had been dead, but evidently not very long as his body was in good condition. The man had probably wandered to that place in the mountain in a fit of craziness and shot himself. He had taken off one shoe and placing the muzzle of the gun against his breast had touched the trigger with the ramrod. The charge must have been terrible as the shot went clear through his body, causing instant death. The body was removed to the home of the almost crazed wife where it will be prepared for burial. The deceased leaves a wife at home and a daughter in Williamsport.

The Official Vote.

Harrisburg, Nov. 12.—The official vote has been received at the state department from every county in the state and shows the following result:

For state treasurer: Haywood, republican, 457,745; Myers, democrat, 282,481; Berry, probition, 20,779; Dawson, people's, 7,802; Anton, socialists labor, 1,229; scattered, 31. Haywood's plurality, 174,264.

The leading candidate for judge of the superior court is Judge Rice, of Luzerne county. Smith, democrat, for superior judge, is elected by 6,214 over Yerks, the next highest democratic candidate for judge.

The official footing on the candidates for superior court judges are: Rice, republican, 60,822; Willard, republican, 456,698; Wickham, republican, 457,139; Reeder, republican, 455,786; Orlady, republican 449,278; Smith, democrat, 287,631 Yerkes, democrat, 281,417; Magee, democrat, 277,070; Noyes, democrat, 276,303 Bechtel, democrat, 274,719; Moorhead democrat, 273,920; Eail prohibition, 21,081; Stevens, prohibition, 21,003; Campbell, prohibition, 20,943; Lathrope, prohibition, 20,920; Sterrett prohibition, 20,830; Hofler, prohibition, 20,825; Stevenson, people's 8,475; Couchlin, people's, 8,625

Saturday's Game.

Everybody should attend the foot ball game on Saturday between the Academy and Williamsport High School elevens. A close and exciting game is a certainty and the visitors will give an exhibition of gilt-edged foot ball. T. A. Shoemaker is being urged to allow them to play this game at the glass works meadow and it is thought his consent will be obtained. Bellefonte has so few places for sports of any kind and that is the reason Mr. Shoemaker is being urged so hard to allow them to play in his meadow. It is to be hoped that a large crowd will witness this game as the expenses are large and must be paid.

It is Dangerous.

The practice of jumping on and off moving trains in Bellefonte still continues. Parents should warn their children about this matter as it would be a sad affliction to any of our small boys to lose an arm or leg. To stand near the P. R. R. station for a half hour is enough to make your hair stand on end watching the boys jump on rapidly moving trains when a slip may mean instant death or injury for life.

Killed a Three Pronged Buck.

Lewis Winner, Joseph McGill, Miles Hanna, William Frank and C. F. Brown spent yesterday on the Queens Run mountain hunting for deer, and killed the finest three pronged buck that has been brought to this town for many a day. The big buck weighed 198 pounds and was shot by Miles Hanna.—Lock Haven Express

A FATAL BOILER EXPLOSION.

Engine No. 13, of the Lehigh and Hudson Goes Up.

New York, Nov. 10.—A special despatch to the Recorder from Warwick, N. Y, says With an awful roar Lehigh and Hudson engine No. 13 blew up to-day and caused the death of four men.

The dead are:

Herbert Beetner, fireman, Easton.
William Cooper, engineer, Philadelphia,
Martin O'Neill, conductor, Belvidere.
Samee L. Sloan, brakeman, Philadelphia.

The force of the explosion was so great that the boiler was thrown from the trucks but the latter remained on the rails. The train consisted of thirty cars, and although it was running on a down grade, was stopped by a brakeman, but not until it had run fully a mile and a half. The victims of the accident were hurled in all directions, their clothing stripped from their bodies, and the tattered garments fell in branches of trees along the tracks, where they remaining hanging. The train started from Maybrook without a conductor at 9.45 o'clock last night and ran to Hudson Junction before his absence was discoyered. Then the engineer put the train on a siding, ran back and picked up the conductor.

Conductor O'Neill remained on the engine, where he was joined by his head brakeman, when the train was again started. The explosion occurred before train had proceeded five miles further. No explanation of the cause of the accident has been advanced, but it is supposed to have been due to low water in the boiler.

The Fifth's Scores.

First Lieutenant George B. Shields, inspector of rifle practice for the Fifth regiment, has forwarded to Major Samuel Hazlett, the brigade rifle practice inspector by way of regimental headquarters, the following consolidated report of work done in that department during the rifle practice season for 1895, which closed on the first of November:

	Sharp-Shooters.	Marksmen	The Totals.
Field and staff	5	4	9
Non-com staff	2	5	6
Company A	17	49	64
Company B	8	48	64
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	55
Company D	26	30	56
Company F	21	46	67
Company G	32	36	68
Company H	11	35	46
Company I	16	43	59
Totals	140	347	487

Ten men of the regiment failed to qualify. The report shows that more than the maximum number of men allowed in a company qualified in some of the organizations. This is explained by the fact that some men were discharged after qualifying, and recruits who filled their places also qualified.

Wants $10,000 Damages.

Pottsville, Pa., Nov. 12.—Suit was instituted in the common pleas court by Richard Armour, of Shenanhoah, to recover $10,000 damages for injuries received to his person in the Gilberton riots of August, 1893. Armour was the police officer of the Schuylkill Traction company. He was instructed by that company, which is the defendant in the suit, to employ National Guardsmen to go with him to protect laborers in relaying the railway tracks in that borough which had been torn up by direction of the town authorities. A riot ensued, and from the effort Armour received a gun shot wound which went through his lungs, which, it is alleged, has permanently disabled him from his duties.

Two of Gilberton's residents were killed in the riot and John J. Briggs, a National Guardsman who was with Armour, was put on trial in the courts of Schuylkill county for murder, but after a lengthy and exciting trial he was acquitted.

News From the Oil Well.

County Treasurer George R. McCrea received a letter this morning from J. A. Heckendom, one of the directors of the Salt Lick gas and oil company, in which he states that the repairs have been completed and the drill is at work again. The first sand was struck at 414 feet and showed a strong smell of oil. It is expected that the second sand will be struck on Thursday. Mr. Heckendom says if the second sand is as much thicker, in proportion to the first one, big results can be looked for. —Lock Haven Express.

Accidentally Killed His Child.

Johnstown, Pa., Nov. 12.—Ed. Wright of Conemaugh, accidentally shot and killed his 12-year-old daughter Stella last night. He was cleaning his shot gun, which he thought was unloaded, intending to go hunting to-day, when it was accidentally discharged.

FRAUD IN SMITH'S VOTE

Wrong Counts In Several Philadelphia Districts.

JUDGE YERKES MY YET WIN

Election Officers Placed Under Arrest in Connection With What Appears to Be a False Summing Up of the Vote. A Complicated State of Affairs.

Philadelphia, Nov. 13,—There is a strong suspicion that the vote for Judge Smith as the successful Democratic candidate for a place on the Superior court bench may have been fraudulently padded and counted in this city. Warrents were issued late on Saturday night by Judges Arnold, Gordon and Sulzberger, sitting as committing magistrates, for the arrest of three election officers of a downtown ward upon the charge of making fraudulent returns. Thirteen more election officers, mainly Democrats, were arrested to-night, and warrants are out for seven others. The alleged frauds were committed in the interests of Smith and Yerkes.

The arrests mainly hang upon the discovery of a false court in favor of Smith. In many instances the Republicans would vote merely straight for the six candidates of the party, and yet Judge Smith would run ahead of his ticket from 20 to 50 votes. In the sixth division of the Fifth ward the election officers cut off 10 votes from every judge, except Mr. Smith, to whose vote they added 40. In the Fifth division Judge Yerkes got 17, while Mr. Smith was credited with 48, although the Republicans polled their full vote for all their candidates, and but 25 Democrats votes were polled.

In one division of the Thirteenth ward the Democrats polled 9 votes for their ticket, yet Mr, Smith got 48, according to the returns.

Ex-Judge Smith's plurality over Judge Yerkes in the State was 5,018. In this city the latter topped the former over 3,000 votes although the difference was expected to be veay much greater. If the investigation by the election court shows that an average of 135 votes in each of the [illegible] fraudulently counted for Mr. Smith Judge Yerkes will win.

National Chairman Harrity replied today to the rumor that he had been implicated in a movement in pursuance of which Catholics and members of Irish societies voted only for Judge Smith. He said:

The statement that I aided Judge Smith or any of the Democratic candidates for the Superior court, to the prejudice of any of the other candidates, is absolutely and unqualifiedly false. I never urged, advised, suggested or intimated to any person whatsoever, either directly or indirectly, that Democrats individually or collectively, should especially aid any candidate upon the ticket. On the contrary, I urged the propriety and wisdom of Democrats supporting the whole and entire Democratic ticket. I challenge successful contradiction of my statement and declare that it is not within the power of any living man to produce a single scintilla of evidence in contradiction of it.

Will Fight The A. P. A.'s.

Erie, Pa., Nov. 12.—The 48 Catholic associations of Erie have organized a joint society with a membership of 5,000. Jacob Kalterback was elected president nad ex Councilman P. O'Brien secretary. While it is announced that the organization has as its object the material and moral welfare of the city, it is well known that one purpose is to combat the growing influence of the American Protective association in politics.

John C. Sturtevant, the Conneautville banker, is here to help along his campaign for the Republican nomination for Congress. James McBrier a vessel owner and engine builder, is also in the field. J. W. Sproul, of Union City, dates for nomination to the State Sentte.

A Blue Child.

Rochester, Pa., Nov. 10.—On Monday last the 3-year-old daughter of Mrs Adam Snyder, living a few miles from here swallowed a large quanity of stuff used for boiling clothes. The dose apparently did no harm until within a few days past, when the child began to turn blue all over her body. At first it was pale blue, then a deep sky blue. The doctor says its the stuff oozing out through her skin, and when it is all out the child will get white again.

Repair Your Sidewalks.

Winter is close at hand and snow will soon be on the ground. See that your sidewalks are in good repair; a little attention in this line might save you a damage suit in the end.

THE POLZANDROUS TODAS.

Five Husbands About the Usual Allowance to Each Wife.

M. H. Levalle, the noted French traveler, has arrived in London from India, which he visited in search of anthropological phenomena, and on his return to France will prepare a book on the most extraordinary tribe of human beings ever discovered, the Todas, who live in a mountainous district in the Presidency of Madras, on almost inaccessible mountain tops and precipices, and have never before been visited by a servant. They are dying out fast, only 511 being alive now of this people, which is supposed to be descended from a colony of Roman soldiers or from soldiers belonging to the armies of Alexander the Great. M. Levalle made the following statement respecting this anthropological curiosity to your correspondent:

"Men of science and others who take an interest in ethnology will have to make haste if they want to see a specimen of the Todas, the most curious race of human beings in all India. In the year 1890 the census takers counted 675 men, women and children belonging to this tribe. At the time I left Madras, four weeks ago, there were 511 among them 331 males.

"I have lived for some time among these people, studied there morals and habits, their present mode of living and history, and come to the conclusion that polyandry is the reason for the astonishing and unprecented degeneration of this race. At the beginning of this century they numbered a hundred thousand or thereabout. Now they are almost wiped out, and, as I have learned, neither flood nor war nor epidemics helped to hasten the process of decimation.

"This race of warriors succumbed to the physicol consequences of a law made several hundred years before Christ, with necessity for its parent. When the ancestors of the Todas first settled on the mountain tops of Nilgiri, about 7,000 feet above the level of the sea, there was doubtless some reason for the cruel rule that a girl, given in marriage, shall be wife not only to her husband, but also to her husband's brother. Tradition among the people says that their forefathers belonged to the army of Alexander the Great, who entered India 327 B. C. Other legends claim Roman soldiers as the Todas' grandsires—in either case, these earliest settlers were probably as hard up for wives as the ancient Romans, who had to steal their female companions among the Sabines.

"In the interest of race propaganda, then it was decreed in the old community that no man should be allowed the monopoly of one woman's love or affection, but on the contrary, should be allow his brothers, or, in case he had none, his other near relatives, to participate in his conjugal bliss. From observation I know that every Toda woman has four, five, or even more husbands.

"The male children from this union, or number of unions, are all credited to the chief husband, or the original husband. The oldest female child is supposed to be the offspring of the husband's oldest brother; the second girl baby calls the second oldest papa, etc.

"I spoke at the beginning of our talk," continued M. Lavelle, "of the degeneration of the race; this, however, manifested itself solely in the decrease of population; individually the Todas appear healthy, beautiful of face and limb. Men and Woman wear the same single garment, a square piece of white or gray linen, in which they drape their muscular form and dignity and coquetry. Up to the time of the interference of the Madras British government the women were dressed solely in their mantle of beautiful black tresses, which they wore loose around their shoulders, and a girdle or a medal chain around their naked waist. The faces of men and women seem to indicate European origin they have little in common with the race characteristics of the people of India. The mouth is firm, the teeth are good, and their forehead high and slightly receding; both sexes have bushy eyebrows and Creek noses. The men all wear a long, black and thin beard. Men and women are tall, and have plastic forms, with mall extremitics. Like other children of nature, they have no notions of prudery or moral restriction. Their lives run smoothly in patriachial fashion.

"The mountain plateau they inhabit is steeped in eternal Spring and Summer; they know nothing of cold seasons or of want. They have a god of their own, whom they honor in a temple a little larger, but otherwise corresponding with their own huts. Two priests, an old and a young man, act as intermediaries between the Toda God and his people. They must adopt the single state for a while, but are allowed to take a wife after a certain routine.

Political Jottings.

Republican victories increase.

Kentucky is Republican by 10,000 and the Legislature is surely Republican, which will mean a Republican Senator to succeed Blackburn.

Utah is to be a State, and will probably elect two Republican United States Senators.

New York shows a Republican majority of 60,00 with the Legislature overwhelmingly Republican. Senator Hill will be succeeded by a Republican in 1897. Brooklyn is Republican.

New Jersey is Republican by over 26,000 and there are only about fifteen Democrats in the Legislature.

Massachusetts re-elects Greenalge by 63,000.

Pennsylvania will give Haywood a majority of about 170,000 Smith, of Lackawanna, will oe the Democratic judge.

In Ohio the majority for Bushnell is growing may reach 100,000.

Kansas gives an old-time 40,000 Republican majority, and Nebraska gives over 10,000.

Chicago and Detroit are largely Republican.

In fact, everything is Republican except Virginia and Mississippi.

These are the only States the Democrats have held for the last two years: South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas and Texas. The Republicans or Populists have captured all the rest.

Sixty-five Miles an Hour.

Another triumph has been won by an American railroad. When the great run was recently made on the New York Central, establishing the world's record of 64½ miles an hour, it was not expected that it would soon be beaten. But a new record was made yesterday by a train run from Chichgo to Buffalo over the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern, 510.1 miles in 481 minutes 7 seconds. The average speed was 63.6 miles an hour, if the time lost by stops is deducted, the average speed was within a small fraction of 65 miles an hour—64.98, to be exact. The last 86 miles of the trip were covered at an average speed of almost 71 miles an hour. It will not be surprising if some last fast trains are soon regularly scheduled to run at the rate of a mile a miunte.—Tribune.

Will Preach in the Streets.

New Castle, Pa., Nov. 6.—The clergy of the Northern convocation of the Episcopal diocese of Pittsburg are in session here. Bishop Whitehead is present. The first paper was read by Rev. Amos Bannister, of Beaver Falls, and was on "Chautauqua as a Centre of Church Influence." Rev. Father Mills, of St. Albans, Erie, the most ritualistic church in the diocese, presented a paper on "How to Bring the Working Classes of the Cities Into the Church.' Rev. E.H Parnell, of St. John's Sharon, said he intended next year to have a platform erected on the principal street of his town. When he wished to address the workingmen whom he could not get into church he would take his vested choir with him and preach from the platform. At the afternoon session Rev. Henry Purdon D D rector of St. James's church. Titusville, discussed the "Missionary Needs of the Northern Convocation."

Shakesperian Recital.

The second Shakesperian recital which was given at the Y. M. C. A. rooms on Wednesday evening by Prof. Fred Going was equally as good as the one on Tuesday evening. The subjects for the last recital were King Richard IV, Julius Caesar, etc. Prof. Going again demonstrated his ability as a first-class reciter and his realism in the many different characters portrayed was exceptionally fine. He possesses that rare talent of interesting his hearers at the start and ably holds their attention during the entire recital. We truly pronounce him one of the best we have ever heard.

Evening School at the Y. M. C. A.

Evening classes in book-keeping, penmanship, anto-pen marking and shorthand, will begin to-morrow night at the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association. The classes will be taught by Prof. A. R. Rutt, George L. Williams, and H. Wilbur Bickle. Young men desiring to enter these classes should be present to-morrow night at 8 o'clock. An informal reception and social time will be held, also an important matter in the interest of the Association and young men will be presented by Prof. S. L. Ammerman. Every young man in Bellefonte should attend this gathering.

The Funeral Was Largely Attended.

Bethlehem, Nov. 6.—The funeral of John Kylor, late general traffic manager of the Lehigh Valley railroad, this afternoon, was attended by many men prominent in railroad circles. Rev. J. Lincoln Litch of the Presbyterian church, officiated.

A Sad Accident.

Lancaster, Nov. 6.—While the latter was cleaning a pistol yesterday Samuel S. Conrad, of Mount Joy township, was accidentally shot and killed by his son. Mr. Conrad was an orderly on General Kilpatrick's staff.

A Letter Carrier in Trouble

Washington, Nov. 7.—The postoffice department was to-day advised of the arrest of C. F. Householder, a letter carrier at Harrisburg, Pa., for stealing registered mail. He was held in $10,000 bail.

A SAD TEMPERANCE LESSON.

Mrs. Mary Calahan Took to Drink and Commits Suicide.

There is material for a sheaf of temperance lectures in the story of the suicide, the other day, of Mrs. Mary Calahan. Blessed with health, strength and exceptional good looks, with a sober, industrious and kind-hearted husband, with five pretty little children and with a comfortable home, she deliberately took to drink, and it was an attack of delirium tremens that made her kill herself.

Her husband, Peter J. Calahan, is an expert hatter, and has since he married pretty Mary Kelly, in Yonkers, twenty years ago, averaged $25 a week at his trade. He was never out of work, and, in fact, kept a place in the largest hat factory in the country for more than sixteen years. In the first ten years of their married life thay lived in a cozy frame house in Williamsburg, on which they were paying purchase installments instead of rent They were getting along happily and comfortably as could be wished when an epidemic of diphtheria in the neighborhood carried off four of their five children, Mrs. Calahan was prostrated by the blow, and had whiskey prescribed to help her in her convalescence.

She grew to depend upon the stimulent, and finally became a drunkard. She fought against it, and was so remorseful after a drunken fit that her husband, who did everything in his power to help her to reform, had to watch her to see that she did not kill herself. The drunken fits were infrequent then, but they came oftener and oftener in the usual way as time went on, and after the birth of her last child, five years ago she became an habitual drunkard.

By this time the payments had lapsed on the little cottage, and the family went to the tenements. Callahan could afford to have rooms in the better class of buildings, and they had all their furniture, but his wife's excesses would sooner or later bring them notice that they must move.

Then, in her wild excesses, she began to pawn their jewelry, the furniture and even her husband's clothes, and the rooms they took had to be in the cheaper neighborhoods. Callahan had to lose so much time in taking care of his wife, for his kindness and patience never wavered, that he lost his steady place, but still his well known skill made it easy for him to keep at work at almost his old wages.

The one good point in his wife's behavior was the care she took of the five youngsters left to them. She kept them well dressed, well fed and clean, and was careful to have them always at school. It was on this feeling that Callahan kept hoping that some day his wife would reform, and he kept patiently bearing with her excesses and giving every cent to keep up the home.

The neighbors had nothing but the highest words for him. They call him, in fact, "a saint," and say that he never spent, even a cent for tobacco, and went around in the dingiest of clothes in order that his children might not suffer from the mother's reckless waste of money. Two weeks ago he got a good offer to work at South Norwalk, during the rush season, and went there on his wife's swearing to keep straight until his return.

"If I break my word again, Peter," she said "I will trouble you no more."

Mrs. Martens, who lives on the same floor of the frame tenement at No. 117 Huron street, Greenpoint, said that Mrs. Callahan kept sober for a whole week, a record for her, and did not succumb to her craze for drink until last Thursday. After that, she did not draw a sober breath, and was noticed to be in a "shaky" condition on Sunday.

It must have been a combination of remorse and delirium tremens that made her walk up to her little ones, kiss them goodbye and cut her throat before them. She used her husband's razor for the deed, and one frenzied slash was enough. She fell to the kitchen floor, and when the neighbors came rushing in, attracted by the children's screams, she was gasping her last. The police took the little ones—three girls and two boys, ranging in age from 12 to 5 years—to the station, and from there sent them to the Children's Society, at 105 Schermerhorn street.

Lily, the eldest, was the only one who could tell the story of her mother's suicide. The younger ones were hysterical, and could only cry for their father. Mr. Callahan came from South Norwalk in response to a telegram, and saw that the body was prepared for burial. He is a little, soft voiced, prematurely gray Irishman, and his grief was pitiful.

"She was a good woman," he kept saying, "barrin' the drink, an' I never should 'a left her."

He will take his children from the society and go away with them to another neighborhood, where they can forget, and where their pitiful story can be forgotten. He can support them nicely, and it may be that he can come to think, as outsiders do, that his wife found the best way out of all their difficulties.—New York Commercial.

When The Chill Mists of the Morning

Hang like a pall over the surface of the earth, it will be well for you before venturing into the raw vaporous air, charged perhaps, with the seeds of malaria or provocative of rheumatic twinges, to take a wineglassful of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and thus shield yourself from atmospheric influences threatening to health. If you happen to get snowed, sleeted or rained upon, use the same preventive, and avoid the rheumatism or a dangerous cold. The agreeable warmth infused into the circulation by this genial stomachic, its invigorating and regulating properties commend it to all appreciative of the fact that prevention is better than cure. Use the Bitters for dyspepsia, billiousnes, nervousness and kidney trouble, sick headache and debility.

Suffocated in a Lime Kiln.

STROUDSBURG, Pa., Nov. 7.—Lindford Overpeck and his son, William, worked in a lime kiln. When they started they said that they would return in time for supper. When it became dark the family became alarmed, and some of the members started for the scene of their father's labor to see what had detained him at the kiln. One of the party took a lantern and went into the kiln, when he discovered on the ground before him the dead bodies of father and son. They had been suffocated by the fumes of the gas arising from the kiln. It is supposed that the two men went down into the kiln, which was only partly filled, to straighten it out so as to burn more lime. The father's body was frightfully burned, but the son's was not so badly disfigured. They will be burried on Sunday next.

The Latest Swindle.

A sewing machine swindler has been getting in his work north of Ebensburg. His method was to examine machines for the purpose of cleaning and repairing them, and, unnoticed, substitute a broken part for one in good condition, then show the broken piece and offer to repair it for $4, $6 or $10. Going to his buggy he would sandpaper and polish the piece he had taken from the machine and return it as new. It is estimated that he took over $100 from the farmers north of Ebensburg in this way.

Music Cost Them $25 Each.

Wilkesbarre, Nov. 7.—For singing "My Pearl is a bowery girl," and other rowdy songs, a theatrical company was arrested in the Gem theatre yesterday afternoon. There was no evidence against them, and conviction would have been impossible had not one of the actresses sang a song in the court room. Mayor Nichols imposed a fine of $25 on each member of the company, which was paid.

Good News from the Test.

Mr. I. C. McCloskey, President of the Salt Lick gas and oil company was in town last night and brought cheering news regarding the progress that is being made in drilling the test well near Karthaus. The drill has passed through first sand, with very strong indications of oil. The drilling is more favorable than when the first well was drilled.—Lock Haven Express.

Yale Finds the Indians Tough.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 7—The Indians from the Carlisle (Pa.) school gave Yale a hard foot ball battle yesterday afternoon. After 45 minutes of stubborn playing. Yale had scored but three touchdown, and had narrowly escaped being scored against three times by the visitors. The final score was: Yale 18, Indiana 0.

Killed at Driftwood.

CONDENSED NEWS ITEMS.

The Pennsylvania railroad has given notice that hereafter it will charge for the transportation of bicycles. They will be estimated at 100 pounds, and charged for as excess baggage. It is said that other companies have agreed to adopt similar regulations and prices.

The Russian government has just closed a contract with the Carnegie Steel Company for a large amount of their patent carbonized reforged armor, which showed up so well in the recent tests at Washington. The order is for immediate delivery and it is said that it will take the Homestead works fully five months to fill it.

C. P. Huntingdon says the Central Pacific railroad will not be able to pay its government debt at maturity, and that if the government will not agree to a settlement of the debt on some basis commensurate with the ability of the road to meet the obligation he has no objection to the government's taking possession of the property. He is in favor of settling on the basis of a 2 per cent. bond to run 100 years.

Following the announcement by the Reading company of an advance in the price of coal, similar notices have been issued by other roads in the hard coal trade and prices have been raised both east and west. The steady marking up of prices points conclusively to an agreement of the strongest sort between the companies in the anthracite coal business, but great care has been taken to preserve secrecy concerning any such agreement. The great combine of coal roads engineered by President McLeod of the Reading company came to grief in the courts, and care is no doubt being taken to preserve the present attempt to put the coal business on a paying basis from a similar fate.

The English Scullers Won.

Austin, Tex., Nov. 6—The three miles with a turn, double sculi rowing race for the world's championship and a purse of $1,000, between England's champions, Butbear and Barry, and America's flyers Teemer and Rogers to-day was won by the former by at least two lengths. The official time was 17.40, which breaks the world's record of 18.02.

A New Role for the New Woman.

Youngstown, O., Nov. 6—There is much gossip here to-day on account of a party 12 young society women had last night. They dressed up in men's clothes and spent the evening at the residence of Mrs. L. E. Green, of Lincoln avenue. They impersonated well-known men to the best of their ability.

DENIES THE CANNON STORY.

A State College Student Corrects the Sensational Account.

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Oct. 31, 1895.

To the Editor of The Examiner.

A story which started at Bellefonte, Pa., has been going the round of the press telling how a body of students have been suspended from the State College for what the author of the story calls "hazing." The account of the affair, which evidently was written by some one who had no knowledge whatever of the facts of the case, states that the students recently, in failing to get a hold of some freshmen outside of their rooms, hauled a cannon up to the house, loaded it with stones, tomato cans and dirt, and fired it directly at the house. Any one who has the slightest knowledge concerning artillery, or even small firearms, knows that a charge like that, fired at short range, as this shot is reported to have been fired, would have completely demolished the part of the building against which it was directed. Since Mr. Shivery's house is standing today, and is in as good condition as it ever was, and since the cannon have been in the college armory all along except when taken on the campus for drill, it is plain that the story is entirely groundless and is a mere creation of the doubtful mind of its author.

Certainly no one connected with the institution, not even Mr. Shivery himself.

Concerning the men who have been requested to leave the college, we admit that one has been expelled and four others (not fourteen, as the story goes) have been suspended, one year being the maximum and six weeks the minimum term of suspension,

The college authorities are opposed to hazing, and in the course of their investigation they gathered what they considered evidence enough against five men to warrant their suspension.

These men were simply suspended for the "song-dance-speech" form of hazing, and the cannon episode must have originated in the mind of the Bellefonte newspaper correspondent.—From the Lancaster Examiner. Signed,

A STUDENT.

A Generous Offer—$200.00 in Gold Given.

R. H. Woodward Company Baltimore Md., are making a very generous offer of $200.00 to anyone who will sell within three months 200 copies of "Talks to Children about Jesus." This is one of the most popular books of recent years. Agents often sell from 10 to 15 copies a day. It contains a great many beautiful illustrations, and is sold at a remarkably low price. They give credit and pay freight, and send complete canvassing outfit for 35 cents. It is just the book to be sold for the holidays. They also offer an Estey Organ, retail price $270, to anyone who will sell 110 books in three months. It is an excellent opportunity for a church or society to secure one of these organs. A $100.00 bicycle to be given for selling 80 copies in two months, or a gold watch for selling 60 copies in one month. This premium is in addition to the regular commission. They have also published a new book, "Gems of Religious Thought," by Talmage, which is having a large sale. Same terms and premiums as on "Talks to Children about Jesus." Agents who do not get any of the premiums are given a liberal commission. They also make a specialty of other books and Bibles for Xmas holidays. Write them immediately. 3t.

Big Coal Deal Rumored.

Elk Democrat: The Northwestern Mining and Exchange company's officials were in this county last week and held a conference with the Shawmut mining company. It is rumored that the Shawmut people are closing a purchase of the Northwest mines in this section and that a transfer is expected about January 1, 1896. Should such a deal go through the immense coal interest of this county will be in the hands of the great coal operators, railroad builders and lumbermen, Hall and Kaul.

Brooded Over Her Mother's Death.

Bethlehem, Pa., Nov. 6.—After arranging a boquet of chrysanthemums, which she said was for her mother's grave, Eilen Fatter, aged 40 years, committed suicide to-day by hanging herself to a banister. She had brooded over her mother's death for a fortnight.

The Century for the Coming Year.

The Century Magazine celebrates its quarter centennial in its November issue with an "Anniversary Number." In honor of the occasion it dons a new dress of type, with new headings, etc., and it appears in a new and artistic cover. Although The Century has reached an age that is unusual among American magazines, it continues to show the youthful vigor and enterprise that have always characterized it. The program that has been arranged for the coming year contains a number of interesting features. Much has already been written concerning Mrs. Humphry Ward's new novel, "Sir George Tressady," which has been securred for its pages. There was a very spirited bidding for this novel on the part of several prominent publishers, with the result that the author will probably realize from the serial and book rights of it one of the largest sums that has yet been given for a work of fiction in the English language. The story describes life in an English country house, and also touches somewhat upon industrial questions. It begins in the November number with an account of an English parliamentary election. It will be the leading feature in fiction for the coming twelve months, other and shorter novels being contributed by W. D. Howells, F. Hopkinson Smith, Mary Hallock Foote and Ameha E. Barr. There will also be contributions from Mark Twain and Rudyard Kipling (the latter furnishing to the Christmas Century) one of the most powerful stories he has ever written; a series of articles on the great naval engagements of Nelson, by Captain Alfred T. Mahan, author of "Influence of Sea Power Upon History;" three brilliant articles on Rome, contributed by Marion Crawford, and superbly illustrated by Castaigne, who made the famous World's Fair pictures in The Century; a series of articles by George Kennan, author of "Siberia and the Exile System," on the mountains and mountaineer of the eastern Caucasus, describing a little-known people; articles by Henry M. Stanley and the late E. J. Glave on Africa; a series of papers on "The Administration of the Cities of the United States" by Dr. Albert Shaw. The Century will also contain during the year a great number of papers on art subjects, richly illustrated.

Prof. Sloane's "Life of Napoleon," with its wealth of illustration, will reach its most interesting part—the rise of the conquor to the heighth of his power, and his final overthrow and exile. In order that new subscribers may obtain the whole of this monumental work, the publishers have made a rate of $5, for which one can have a year's subscription from November 1895, and all of the numbers for the past twelve months, from the beginning of Prof. Sloane's history.

Gov. Hastings' Trip to Atlanta.

Gov. Hastings and his staff are preparing for a trip to Chattanooga and Atlanta. They will travel in a special train of Pullman cars, having a dining car attached. The staff will wear service uniforms during the entire trip, except on Pennsylvania day, when the full dress uniforms will cover their marital forms. The special train will leave Harrisburg on Monday, Nov. 11th, at 4 p. m. via the Cumberland Valley and Norfolk & Western railroads, to Bristol, Tennessee; thence via Southern railway to Chattanooga, arriving there Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 12th, remaining at Chattanooga until 5 p. m, Nov. 13th; thence to Atlanta, arriving 9 p. m. same evening; remain at Atlanta Thursday and Friday and leave for home at noon on Saturday. At Chattanooga the governor and his staff will inspect the Pennsylvania monuments erected on the battlefield of Chickamauga, and at Atlanta they will take part in the ceremonies incidental to Pennsylvania day. Mrs. Hastings and the wives of the staff will accompany the train.

No Room for the Orphans.

Harrisburg, Nov. 8.—The soldiers' orphan's commission state that there are over 150 applicants for admission to their schools who cannot be accommodated owing to limited room and a restricted appropriation from the state. The only building owned by the commonwealth for the education of soldiers' orphans is the new industrial school at Scotland. At the meeting of the commission this week the lack of funds was amply evidenced by the inability of the body to fill up various departments of work.

FOR BENEFIT OF MISSIONS.

A Pretty Tea at Mrs Wilkinson's on Thursday Evening.

A social tea was given by Mrs. Wilkinson's class the "Willing Workers" of the Protestant Episcopal church at the cozy Wilkinson home, on Allegheny street, on Thursday evening. Everything had been arranged specially for the occasion and when the guests commenced to arrive the interior of the house was a picture of beauty. The downstairs of the house had been thrown open for the visitors and everything had been so artistically planned and fixed by skillful hands that when one entered the door he could not but wonder at the beauty of the whole scene. It was indeed a fairy picture and reflected much credit to the originators of the plans and the executors of the designs. The guests commenced to arrive early and during the whole evening there was a continuous flow of people passing in and out. As one would stroll through the different rooms something new and still prettier would constantly be unfolded and it seemed no matter how long one stryed, there was still something to be seen. The music was furnished by Messrs. Katz and Walkey and the sweet strains of the mandolin and guitar during the evening made the occasion all the more merrier. Nothing but praise was heard on all sides of the excellent music. Invitations had been sent out asking you to come to "your birthday party" and enclosed with the invitation were little red sacks. The invitation was in the shape of a little verse of poetry asking you to "please either send or bring it back, with cents as many as you're years old." This itself was a novelty and an idea that brought forth a good response. At one time there were more than seventy-five people in the house and still they kept going and coming. It was a grand social and financial success and as it was for a mission benefit it will still do unlimited good. It is a credit to the church to have such diligent workers among its congregation and as this is not the only affair of this kind much more good can yet be looked for. Everybody had a good time and when the hour for departure came around—and it seemed too quickly to—it was with deep regret that they bade their kind hostess good night.

The Law of Libel.

Below is published for the information of the public and as a warning to some persons hereabouts, Act. No. 275, for the publishing the printing, posting and distributing of any libelous circular or poster or other written or printed paper:

SECTION 1. Be it enacted, &c., That whoever writes, prints, posts or distributes, or causes to be written, printed posted or distributed, a circular or poster cartoon or other written or printed paper which is designed or tends to injure or defeat any candidate for nomination or election to public office, by reflecting upon his personal character or political action, unless the same shall be published in a newspaper avowedly responsible therefor, or unless there appears upon such circular, poster or paper in a conspicuous place, either the names of the chairman or secretary, or at least the names of two officers of the political or other organizations issuing the same, or the name of some duly registered elector with description of his election district, as responsible therefor, shall be punished by fine not exceeding one hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in jail not exceeding six months, or both, and if the statements are untrue the person so offending shall also be deemed guilty of libel and may be prosecuted in the civil or criminal courts, or both, thereof.

This act was approved by the Governor on June 26, 1895.

The Consistory urge every member (male and female) in good and regula standing to be present and participate.—Lewisburg Journal.

About Mailing Holiday Packages.

In compliance with a request of the Postmaster General, Postmaster Fortney has had posted in the postoffice large cards cautioning the public in regard to the proper mailing and stamping of holiday packages. Every year the department suffers largely through the indifference or ignorance of senders of holiday packages, and in spite of repeated warnings and efforts to prevent it each winter season finds the Dead Letter office stored high with holiday gifts that go astray.

Good Judgement.

Some journals complain of Governor Hastings throwing too many appointments into Centre county. Never fret so long as the appointees are fit; our county has enough of good material to run the entire State government. Just keep throwing your plumbs this way, governor.—Centre Hall Reporter.

St. Nicholas in 1896.

For almost a quarter of a century—for twenty-two years, to be exact—St. Nicholas Magazine has been bearing its welcome messages each month to the young people of the land. It began existance in 1873, consolidating with it in its early years all of the leading children's periodicals of that day. "The Little Corporal," "Children's Hour," "The School-Day Magazine," and "Our Young Folks" among them. The last children's magazine to be merged in St. Nicholas was "Wide Awake," which was purchased and consolidated with it only a few years ago, It has been fortunate in securing contributions for its pages from the leading writers and artists of the language, while it has given to its readers many works that have become imperishable classics in juvenile literature. St. Nicholas has had for many years a large circulation in Europe, and it is said to be read by many royal children. When the children of the Prince of Wales' family were young the Prince took six copies for his household, and the present Crown Prince of Italy grew up a constant reader of St. Nicholas.

The magazine is a help to those that have the care and up-bringing of children, in that it is full of brightness and interest and tends to cultivate high asperations, without being "preachy" and prosy and lugging in too apparent moralizing. Its readers are always loyal to it, and they will be glad to learn what has been provided for their delectation during the coming year. The leading feature will be a delightful series of letters written to young people from Somoa, by Robert Louis Stevenson. These describe the picturesque life of the lamented romancer in his island home, and give interesting portraits of his native retainers. Rudyard Kepling, whose first jungle stories appeared in St. Nicholas, will write for it in 1896, and James Whitcomb Riley, the Hoosier poet, will contribute a delightful poem, "The Dream March of the Children," to the Christmas number, The serial stories represent several favorite names. "The Swordmaker's Son" is a story of boy-life in Palestine at the time of the founding of Christianity. It is written by W. O. Stoddard, whose careful study of the history of the times and whose travels over the scenes of the story have enabled him to present vividly the local coloring. "The Prize Cup" is one of J. T. Trowbridge's best stories. Albert Stearns, whose "Chris and the Wonderful Lamp" was one of the great successes of the past year, has written another story that promises much. In "Sindbad, Smith & Co.," he has again gone to "The Arabian Nights" for inspiration An American boy enters into partnership with that greatest of sea-faring adventurers, Sindbad, and the fun and the complications that this brings about can be imagined. These are but a few of the features. During the coming year $1,000 will be given in prizes. Full particulars concerning it will be found in the November number.

Echoes of Fashion.

Short double breasted coats of black, brown or green velvet, faced on the revers and collar with fur, or white cloth edged with fur, are one of the novelties in outside garments. Large fancy buttons decorate the front. For more common wear there are coats of similar style with strapped seams and melon shaped sleeves.

Russian collars with broad revers and high medici collars of fur with narrow capes, are more fashionable than boas for those who can afford the luxury of such a trifle.

Necklets made of a band of fur four or five inches wide, finished in front with little heads and at the back with a big bow of velvet, are among the novelties in neck protectors, while others have lace ends or velvet tabs with velvet rosetts at the sides.

Puffs of black chiffon, larger than any we have had before, are made very pretty with tiny bits of ostrich feathers on the edge like a fringe, and in addition to these are neck ruches of innumerable loops of velvet ribbons a little more than an inch wide, or gauze ribbon with a satin edge, sewn to a satin ribbon with a satin edge, sewn to a satin ribbon two inches wide, which ties in a bow in front.

The newest modes in capes are shaped to show the outline of the shoulder, which is not completely disguised by fluffy frills as it was in the spring; and the very daintiest things on the list are short capes for evening, made of white velvet patterned all over with shadowy roses.

Black satin ribbon, four or five inches wide and elaborately jetted, is used for trimming silk and velvet capes. It is sewn lengthwise at intervals all around, and the upper ends fold over in loops and are gathered in to partially form the ruche. —Philipsburg Journal.

Section Foreman in Trouble.

William Graham, a B. R. & P. section foreman, who resides at Sykes, Jefferson county, is in trouble. Graham had heard of financiers who made large some of money by padding pay rolls and he concluded to make a few dollars by that method. Accordingly he put two dummies on his pay roll and received $35 from the railroad company. Before the next month's pay roll was made the railroad officials discovered that something was wrong and caused Graham's arrest on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. The case will come up for trial at the next term of court.—Bradford Era.

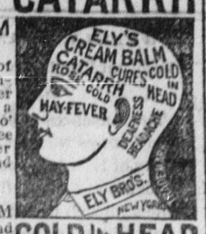
CATARRH



COLD IN HEAD

Canned Goods.

The day is gone when it pays the housewife to wear out her health and temper canning fruit and vegetables. These things are now done most economically by the modern American plan on a mammoth scale. The result is that the finest canned goods in the world are sold at such prices as make it impossible for any lady customers to make it profitable to waste their time canning fruit and vegetables. You can buy tomatoes for instance for a few cents a price less than the coal would cost for anyone who would prepare them at home, almost less than the empty cans would cost. The EUREKA GROCERY have a fine stock on hand and will in a few days receive a large shipment of them. Also all kinds of Groceries. Call and see their goods and price them.

Everybody is completely at sea in regard to the election contest which is very probable in Centre county owing to the election boards in one or two precincts closing up the polls and going to dinner. It is not known at the present time just what will be done in the matter but that something will be done is openly acknowledged on all sides. The precincts in which the trouble occurred are strongly Democratic and if the vote in those districts were thrown out it would elect Quigley and Miller beyond a doubt. When such a thing as closing up the polls during election hours is allowed in a community—being a direct violation of the law it is time something is done in the matter. It is very probable that it was done through pure ignorance but that excuse would not clear the offending election boards from this trouble. They receive their instructions and if they do not fully comply with them then they should be brought to account for their negligence. This is a case where the law should be rigidly enforced. It is not the duty of one or two people to look the matter up but it is the sworn duty of the officers of the law to probe the matter to the end and find out correctly just what happened. Such doings would not be countenanced in any other county and it should not be in Centre. If this misdemeanor is allowed to go unheeded, what will the state of affairs in Centre county be in a few years? If the proper officials do not take the matter in hand, they should be severely censured for it and also made to suffer. It is not a question as to how it will effect the result of the recent election, but it is a question of justice and an example should be made of these offenders to warn future election boards. The upright citizens of Centre county demand an investigation of this affair and their demand dare not be cast aside. Some person will likely get punished through an investigation but it would be nothing more than he deserved. Officers do your duty. Probe this matter to the end. Mete out justice to these offending parties, and you will have the thanks of the honest people of Centre county.

—Congress will be asked in December to place a government building and exhibit at the Tennessee Centennial Exposition. Tennessee will be one hundred years old in 1896, and the people of the State are prepared to spend $1,500,000 and if necessary, to celebrate the event. If Tennessee can afford to celebrate her going in to the Union thus elaborately, certainly the government representing the Union can afford to recognize the accession of Tennessee. The celebration of the one hundredth birthday of a state is a National affair, and Tennessee's Interstate and International Exposition should be promptly recognized by Congress.

—The California Wine Association has one of the largest exhibits at Atlanta. The Association has informed the Tennessee Centennial Exposition management that it will have an exhibit twice the size at Nashville next year. Many other large concerns have written likewise.

WEEKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW

From our Regular Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9, 1895.

The influences most adverse to the Stock Market this week have been the unsettled state of European politics; the fears of a collapse in the "Kaffir" speculation, and the approach of sterling exchange to the gold shipping point. The latter factor had probably more influence than all the others combined. London was a steady seller of our stocks, and as wheat and cotton do not go outwards with sufficient freedom to pay for our large imports, the supply of bills was exhausted and we find ourselves on the verge of gold exports instead of the imports usual at this season. This situation was taken full advantage of by professional traders, who had little difficulty in forcing liquidation by weak or tired holders, particularly as the big operators seemed willing for a decline. Towards the close of the week there was a rally based upon short covering, and a more hopeful feeling developed. It would seem as if all the unfavoraple conditions had been fairly discounted by the decline of the last few weeks, but enough uncertainty still remains to demand caution.

The outcome of the elections can hardly be said to have had much immediate effect upon the investment markets, but it is not therefore to be regarded as devoid of importance. It means much as to the future of parties. It strengthens very decidedly the prospect of a new prolongation of Republican ascendancy in national affairs; and with that goes a probability that financial and currency questions will be dealt with on lines different from those laid down by the opposite party. There is no reason to suppose that the Republicans are any less desirous to remove the dangers connected with our currency system than the Democrats have shown themselves to be. But their methods of treatment are likey to follow ideals which so far have been hinted at rather than open considered. A party so long in power may be expecte to have some respect for the institution which it has established; and for that reason, there is a prima facie probability that the new Congress will hesitate to hastily sacrifice the greenback (United States notes) and will be in no hurry to extend privileges to the State banks in conflict with the interests and prestige of the National banks. Indications are not lacking that these two possessions may go far towards shaping Republican policy on financial and monetary measures. On the question of retiring the legal tender notes, a second thought is beginning to appear. The argument is put forth in quarters which will command attention that the troubles of the Treasury are not so much due to the greenback itself and for what it intrinsically is, as to the fact that there has been superadded to that note 150 millions of Sherman notes and 340 millions of silver certificates, all of which are, in the final issues, payable in gold. It is reasoned that the official gold reserve of 100 millions is thus made to bear a burden of 835 millions of obligations instead of the 345 millions annually contemplated; which it is claimed, is quite sufficient to throw discredit upon our whole paper currency. To remedy is vast excess of paper over the gold reserve, it is proposed that first the entire issue of Sherman notes shall be retired through an issue of low interest bonds which shall afford a basis for increased issues of National bank notes upon conditions more liberal that those now existing; and that, at a later stage, at least a good portion of the silver certificates shall be withdrawn, and the silver held against them, as well as that held against the Shermans, shall be disposed of. To provide against the contraction that would result from these withdrawals of currency, it is suggested that the conditions of issuing bank notes shall be so far eased as to admit of a corresponding increase in the volume of that currency. In this way, the greenbacks would be retained in use, and the privilege of issuing bank paper would be reserved to the National banks.

At present, it seems likely that a policy of this character may be favored by the party into whose hands political control is falling. It is not to be questioned that such a course would present practicalities and attractions that would win for it considerable support. Under such conditions, he greenbacks would be greatly strengthened, and would be readily accepted for an important class of uses for which gold would otherwise be required. Certain it is that they have fallen into discredit only since the other forms of circulating notes have been put out in such immense volumes, and the withdrawal of the latter could only give confidence to the retained original legal tender. A charge of this character would be less revolutionary than the one favored by the present Administration, which would not only withdraw all the present forms of paper legal tender, but would substitute a new basis of guarantee for bank notes, and make those notes issuable by State banks as well as National.

The significance to the market of these foreshadowings is that they seem to suggest a working way out of the Treasury embarrassments, which may be broached for public consideration in the new Congress.

The position of the "Kaffir" troubles in Paris seems to have been somewhat ceased and there is less apprehension of a violent crash of that speculation than there has been. The European political situation now presents the most gloomy aspect of the two. Wall street is beginning to

One of the wrong things in this world is that a woman has to wait for a man to speak. Her happiness may depend upon him, but she is not permitted to tell him so, as he would be to tell her. She must depend upon her ability to create and foster in him a favorable and ardent feeling. To do this, she must depend much upon her appearance. No man admires a sallow skin, dull and sunken and circled eyes, bloodless lips, sunken cheeks. No man wants to marry an invalid. Very few invalds are attractive to either sex. It isn't natural that they should be. Many a woman's heart's happiness has been wrecked because of a crop of pimples or because of a foul breath, or because of some other unpleasant symptom of an irregularity in the performance of her natural functions.

Health in a woman brings clear complexion, red lips, vivacity, sparkle of eyes and intellect. Eternal watchfulness is the price of health. The downward road to disease is fatally easy to travel. Little disorders, little irregularities, little drains, lead to the most serious consequences. Put a stop to them! Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will do it without the embarrassment of examinations and "local treatment" so much dreaded by modest women. In nine cases in ten, there is absolutely no need of them. The "Favorite Prescription" has been prescribed by Dr. Pierce for over 30 years and has cured the very worst forms of female troubles.

A book of 168 pages, containing much valuable information and letters from hundreds of grateful women, will be sent in a plain envelope, securely sealed, on receipt of this notice and ten cents, in stamps, to part pay postage, by WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, No. 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

breathe more freely in consequence; and as there has been a continuous letting down of prices here for some weeks past, the tone may soon be expected to become more hopeful, with more disposition to buy. More courageous buying than selling is what is really needed before the market is likely to turn pronouncedly upwards; meanwhile we continue to recommend conservative trading only.

HENRY CLEWS.

HE KIDNAPED A CHILD.

Sensation Which Occurred At the Buffalo Station.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 12—Little Dorole Folwell, 5 years of age, was kidnaped at the Central depot this afternoon by a burly stranger, who dragged the child from her mother's side and sprang on the moving eastbound Chicago and Boston special. There must have been some one on the train in collusion with the kidnaper, as the steps of one of the vestibule cars were left down so that he could climb on after the train had started.

The scene was a most sensational one as the stranger with the child in his arms ran for the train, with the mother, a strikingly handsome woman, in pursuit, her screams ringing through the lofty arches of the big depot.

Mrs. Folwell became hysterical when she found the child was lost, but finally recovered herself sufficiently to go to the telegraph office and wire the Rochester police to search the train and rescue the child. Then she told her story. Her name, she said was Mrs. Henry Folwell wife of a wealthy resident of Boston, to whom she was married eight years ago. A year ago they separated. Her husband insisted on having the child, but she stole the little girl from his home and escaped with her, and has been living in the west, but felt that she was being shadowed all the time. Several days ago she came to Buffalo to visit friends and to-day intended going to New York, for which purpose she was waiting in the depot for a train. Mrs. Folwell says she recognized the kidnaper as her husband's secretary. If the police fail to intercept the child and her captor, she will go to Boston and use every means to regain possession of her little daughter. Later in the afternoon Mrs. Folwell visited police headquarters and reported the facts to the police.

Col. Ingersoll Challenged.

Columbus, Ind., Nov. 10.—The Rev. Z. T. Sweeney, minister to Turkey during President Harrison's administration, and now pastor of the Christian church here, sent the following letter to Col. Ingersoll at his hotel after his recent lecture, but he could not see the committee, as he was getting ready to retire. To a note signed by the committee, asking for an answer, he replied: "Not now."

"Hon. Robert G. Ingersoll—Dear Sir—A number of persons interested in the cause of Christianity, but not of sectarianism, are desirous of ascertaining if you will meet in public debate a defender of Christianity and a representative of the people known as the Disciples of Christ, or Christians, and under the rules governing a properly conducted discussion debate the following propositions—viz.: First—The Christianity of the New Testament is a human institution. You affirm. Second—The Christianity of the New Testament is a divine institution. We affirm.

"In the interest of truth, I am, sincerely
Z. T. SWEENEY."

Throat Disease Cured With Grapes and Horehound.

The noted old nurse, descendant of Holland Dutch, discovered that a certain combination of grapes with the Horehound Herb and the Root of Elecampane made into a cordial will cure sore throat and coughs, and excellent for colds catarrh and all irritation of the Bronchial tubes, tonsils and throat, and for singers and public speakers. Druggists say the sales are immense, and it is doing great good. It is called Aunt Rachel's Elecampane and Horehound Cordial.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our Regular Correspondent.

Washington, Nov. 11th, 1895.

Mr. Cleveland and his Cabinet after mature consideration have arrived at the wonderful conclusion that the overwhelming democratic defeats of last week were endorsements of the administration and condemnation of the anti-Cleveland democrats. Was anything more idiotic ever conceived outside of the walls of an insane asylum? It is egotism run wild. These self-blinded individuals will never realize the disgust the people of this country feel for their demonstrated incapacity until the election returns of next November are counted; then they will have the remainder of their lives to learn to see themselves as others see them.

Gorman, Hill, and the other anti-Cleveland democrats are going, unless their friends in Washington are misinformed as to their intentions, to give Mr. Cleveland another chance to see whether his personal following is as large as he thinks it is, by helping to nominate him for president again. They charge him with having made it impossible to elect any democrat president, and say that he shall bear the ignominy of being the only man who was ever twice defeated for the Presidency of the United States. That will suit the republicans, as they would rather defeat Mr. Cleveland than anybody else.

The republicans are naturally delighted at the prospect of not only regaining the Presidency next year, but of having control of both branches of Congress, a majority of the Senate after March 4, 1897, having been made absolutely certain by the result of last week's elections. Nothing but some stupendous blunder on the part of the republican majority in the House at the coming session of Congress can prevent republican success next year, and with that man of iron will and proved sagacity, Thomas B. Reed, in the Speaker's chair, no such blunder will be made. This is so well known by the democrats that they are now depending solely upon their ability to create jealousy among the victorious republicans. A democratic plan has already been agreed upon, which involves the concocting and spreading of all sorts of stories calculated to cause dickering and dissension among the friends of the aspirants for the republican presidential nomination, and already those stories are being circulated. Let all republicans keep in mind the source and purpose of these stories and they will cause no harm; and if disposed to take part in a factional fight look at the present condition of the democratic party and be warned in time.

Ex-Senator Manderson, of Nebraska, who is in Washington in connection with the sugar bounty cases in which he is chief counsel, says: "The republicans are in a position where they can take any man for a presidential candidate. They do not have to figure on the chances of this or that man for election. Their candidate will be elected no matter who he is nor what state he comes from."

The administration is understood to be considerably troubled about the Cuban question and several members of the cabinet, having in view the failure of Mr. Cleveland's Hawaiian policy, are trying to persuade him to make no recommendation on the Cuban matter in his message to Congress, further than to call attention to the information (sending the documents with the message) gathered by the State Department, and to request that Congress shall define the policy to be pursued by this government. If he accepts that advice it will indicate that he has learned something by experience, but he will have to do it before most people will believe it possible.

How are the mighty fallen! E. Ellery Anderson, of New York, one of the original cuckoos, has been officially snubbed by Hoke Smith, one of the second crop of cuckoos. Mr. Anderson is one of the men appointed by Mr. Cleveland to look out for the interests of the government in the Union Pacific Railroad. Quite awhile ago he made some recommendations to Secretary Hoke Smith, concerning the patenting of lands to that railroad company by the U. S. Land Office. Not hearing anything about his recommendations, Mr. Anderson ventured to remind the Secretary of them and to ask that he say what he intended doing about them. He was curtly informed that the Secretary did not deem it advisable to pass on the recommendation either way, as Congress would probably legislate on the subject at the coming session. It was probably this snubbing of a Cleveland worshipper that was responsible for the rumor that Mr. Smith was contemplating an early retirement from the Cabinet. He isn't doing anything of the sort; he is enjoying his prominence to the full and is using it to help along his ambition to succeed Gen. Gordon as Senator from Georgia. If he can get that vacancy in the Supreme Court he will gladly take it, otherwise he'll stick to his present job.

The republican party might have lots worse candidates than Senator Qauy would make and then not have a bad one, but Senator Quay has no idea of becoming a candidate next year, notwithstanding democratic stories to the contrary.

Hopeless.

"I have half a notion to give up trying to be a man," signed the new woman.

"What!" shrieked the others.

"There is no use trying. I have made the most strenuous efforts possible to feel half scared to death when I go into a dry goods store, and I just can't do it."—Indianapolis Journal.

A Letter From Mr. Foster.

Port Huron, Mich., Nov. 8, 1895.

To the Editor of Republican:

I see there has been considerable discussion in the papers concerning Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm and the wonderful success it has met with. One writer says that the ingenious chemist of Dayton, O., has taken up with the idea that camphors carry wonderful healing properties. Another writer says he got the idea from a French savant of the Seventeenth Century. Perhaps I can throw a little more light on this interesting subject. Raspail, a French chemist, born at Carpentear, and the creator of organic chemistry, in 1835, adopted the theory that disease is most frequently confined by internel or externa parasites, and fixed upon camphor as the best general agent for destroying them, which he prepared and sold first in the form of cigarettes, afterwards in the form of a salve. No matter where the Dayton chemist got the idea he has prepared a great remedy for catarrh of the nasal passages. Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm certainly kills the parasites, if they exist, and heals the diseased membranes. The scabs and sores in the throat and head are quickly healed and the disagreeable choking sensation which accompanies catarrh is stopped at once. Pretzinger's is a catarrh healer. Everybody in Port Huron uses it and we have lots of catarrh here. I unhesitatingly recommend it to every sufferer from this disease. Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm is not a secret remedy at all. Everybody knows that it contains the camphors that are the cause of its great curative properties, and I for one will only be too glad to have Mr. Pretzinger make lots of money out of it. It is a good thing. Push it along. E. M. FOSTER,

A small sample can be had by sending a two-cent stamp to Pretzinger Bros., Chemists, Dayton, Ohio.

Strangled Her Babe.

Allentown, Pa., Nov. 11,—Mrs. Elias Gildner, who is of unsound mind, this morning strangled her 3-weeks'-old babe in bed. Elias Gildner, father of the dead babe, works at night in a foundry and was away from home all night. The child was well and asleep when he left home. He was summoned home this morning by a messenger with the information that the child was dead. Mrs. Gildner had carried out her threats to kill the child. She smothered it in the bed clothes and marks on the body showed rough treatment. The coroner's jury put the blame for the child's death on the mother and recommended her confinement in an asylum. The woman has been mentally unsound for several years and she became worse since her 5-year-old boy was killed on the railroad while playing several weeks ago.

Later Returns.

Philadelphia, Nov. 6.—Later and complete returns have been added materially to the earlier returns in the vote for Smith democrat, for superior court judge, particularly in the anthracite coal counties, where Smith gets a remarkably large vote over that of the other democratic candidates for superior court judge. These later returns now leave it doubtful whether Yerkes or Smith will be the minority representative on the superior court bench, with the prospect that the returns from the missing counties will show that Smith has the larger vote of the two. The other democratic candidates run considerable behind Yerkes and Smith.

FOOLED THE HERMIT.

Huntingdon Reformatory Inmate Stole His Clothes and Then Fled.

Huntingdon, Pa., Nov. 10.—After effecting his escape from the Huntingdon reformatory on Friday, Joseph Snyder, an inmate from Cambria county, sought shelter at the abode of Joseph Wentz, a hermit, in Hartslog valley. Wentz recognized his caller as belonging to the reformatory and in order to obtain the $25 reward gave Snyder accommodation over night and on Saturday morning locked him securely in his house. Wentz then came to Huntingdon and informed the reformatory managers.

Guard Charles Bookheimer hastened with a strong force after the fugitive, but on arriving at the place found that Snyder had escaped, taking with him all of Wentz's clothing and other articles. Snyder was engaged to be married before his arrest and it is thought he has fled to his sweetheart at Ebensburg.

Drank Drug Store Whisky.

Butler, Pa., Nov., 11.—It was a case of the hotelkeepers versus the druggist when the rule entered by Judge Greer upon the hotelkeepers to show cause why their licenses should not be revoked, because of sales of liquor to minors and habitual drunkards, was called for a hearing this morning. There was not much evidence against the hotel men, but the prosecution took a surprising turn when C. N. Boyd, J. C. Redick, J. F. Balph, S A. Johnson, G. M. Zimmerman, S. C. Anderson and C. Weiller, all druggists, were summoned to produce their prescription files. Simultaneously all the doctors practicing in the city were cited to be on hand when the prescriptions are produced. It is supposed that the calling of the doctors and druggists into court is a movement of the hotelkeepers to show that they are not responsible for the notable increase of drunkenness, but that it is caused by the large sales of liquors at the drug stores on physicians' prescription.

Judge Greer discharged the cases against the hotels and remarked that in the accusations against the druggists and doctors the key had been handed him to where all this drunkenness came from, and concluded by ordering the arrest of Dr. Bricker, and Druggist Johnson, to appear at the Dec. court, and instructed the district attorney to make arrests where he thought necessary in cases of the same nature.

Dumped Over an Embankment.

Greensburg, Pa., Nov. 11. Two young men who live in the vicinity of Johnstown, William Patch and George Cooper, met with a serious accident in the mountainous region of Fairfield township yesterday. They went to New Florence from their homes, hired a horse and buggy and started on a hunting expedition. While driving along a mountain road the horse fell dead and rolled over a 30-foot embankment, drawing the buggy and occupants with it. The buggy fell on the men in the ravine below. Cooper sustained very serious injuries. Several bones were broken and he was internally injured. Patch was badly cut and bruised.

A Kentucky Indictment.

A few years ago a Kentucky grand jury brought in an indictment in which it stated that the defendant "did unlawfully, willfully and maliciously kill and destroy one pig, the personal property of George Pigg, the said pig being of value to the aforesaid George Pigg. The pig thus killed weighed about twenty-five pounds and was a mate of some other pigs owned by said George Pigg, which left George Pigg a pig less than he (said George Pigg) had of pigs, and thus ruthlessly tore said pig from the society of George Pigg's other pigs against the peace and dignity of the commonwealth of Kentucky."—Jewell County Kan. Republican.

A. Rogers; a fourth paper in the interesting Public School series, entitled "Pupils,"; contributions by W. D. Howells, and E. S. Martin to the departments "Life and Letters" and "This Busy World," and an instalment of the serial story, "Cension," by Maud Mason Austin.

Durant Gets a New Lease of Life.

San Francisco, Nov. 8.—Durant was brought up for sentance this morning for the murder of Blanch Lamont, but upon application of the prisoner's counsel, a continuance was granted for two weeks to give them time to prepare a motion for a new trial. The Minnie Williams murder case, which was set for to-day, was also indefinitely postponed.

THE POLZANDROUS TODAS.

"There are still in existence 106 Todas villages, so called, each consisting of four huts and a temple. A good many, though are uninhabited, the population having died out. The villages are built on mountain tops and precipices that can only be reached only with much difficulty by narrow and dangerous paths. The huts make a cleanly and pleasant appearance They are built of wood, and the walls on the inside are covered with some sort of cement They cover from eight to fifteen square feet, and are seven or eight feet high. The roof consists of twigs and palm leaves. There is only one entrance, which can be locked by a stout plank. Opposite the door is the master's bed on a little platform. At the other end of the room, are an oil stove and shelves, with kitchen utensils.

"The temple is always the largest hut of the village, as all the inhabitants keep their milk in one part of the edifice, separated from the priests' room by a board wall.

"The Todas call themselves "Kings of the Hills," and as such scorn the idea of tilling soil. For many centuries the neighboring tribes have paid them tribute in the shape of grain and other necessary cereals. This seems to indicate that the supposition is correct which stamps the Todas as descendants of soldiers or conquerors. I have asked members of the Bagada tribe, living in the Nilgiri Hills, why they continue this practice of furnishing the enemy with food and provision. They say they did not know; it had always been thus since the days of King Ravana."

"Who is King Ravana?"

"A mighty giant monarch, living far away from Madras. He banished the Todas to this territorry, excluding them their beautiful homes, their great cities, all their riches."

"The women are well treated and seem to keep the men in a sort of subjection. The girl does the courting herself and cannot be forced to marry against her will. This is only fair when it is considered that she marries not one, but half a dozen men by one act, and is therefore forced to look closely into the affairs of a number of young men before binding herself to one of them. The man, on the other hand, may refuse the hand offered him. If he accepts, he is expected to present six or eight buffaloes to the parents, and that settles the bargain.

"The waning ——strength of the tribe," continued M. Levalle, "has forced the men to special efforts in respect to levying their tribute of cereals among the neighboring communities. The fashion now generally followed is to send the young fellows, after harvesting time, into the valley, where they drive out all males taking up their residence with the woman until the grain is forthcoming, which they carry off swiftly to support their own in idleness for a season. In this undertaking their physical beauty, their whole warlike appearance, stand them in good stead.'

It seems that there is one more reason for the rapid decline of the race besides that mentioned. Like other warriors of ancient times, of whom history tells, the Todas kill all superfluous females soon after birth, and any girl baby born on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, or Friday is superfluous, for these four days are "unlucky," and no self-respecting Toda undertakes anything of consequence then. Surely he cannot be asked to assume the responsibilities of parentage at such a time.

The French say "it is the impossible that happens." This has proved to be the case with the Mount Lebanon Shakers. The whole scientific world has been laboring to cure dyspepsia, but every effort seemed to meet with defeat. The suffering from stomach troubles has become almost universal. Multitudes have no desire for food and that which they do eat causes them pain and distress. Sleepless nights are the rule and not the exception, and thousands of sufferers have become discouraged.

The Shakers of Mount Lebanon have recently come to the front with their new Digestive Cordial, which contains a food not only already digested, but is a digester of food.

It promptly relieves nearly all forms of indigestion. Ask your druggist for one of their books.

Laxol, the new castor oil, is being used in hospitals. It is sweet as honey.

MAY CONTEST THE ELECTION.

Democratic Precincts May Lose their Vote In, The End.

Quite a stir has been caused in the Democratic ranks owing to the report that the election boards in a couple of the precincts in Centre county locked up the polls and went home to dinner. There is a move on foot to contest the legality of the election and as the precincts involved in the present muddle are strongly Democratic it would mean the election of the two Republican candidates should the vote in those precincts be thrown out. Such an act as locking up the polls during election hours is in direct violation of the law and the mere throwing out of the ballot may not end the trouble as they may have to come before the court to give an account of themselves for so doing. It was the general opinion among both Democrats and Republicans to-day that the result would be that the vote would be thrown out but whether another election in the offending precincts would be called, no one seemed to know. It is an unparalleled case in Centre county and the ending up of it will be looked forward to with much interest by everybody.

THEY CAME TO GRIEF.

The Eloped Couple From Loganton Brought Back Under Arrest.

Jerome Zimmerman and Susan Parker, who eloped from Sugar Valley Wednesday night, and were taken into cusody by the police in Pittsburg, arrived in this city last evening at 9.47, over the Bald Eagle Valley road. The couple were escorted by Constable Martin. Chief of Police Keller joined the party at Mill Hall, and was with them when they stepped from the car. Upwards of a thousand people were at the depot to see the man and woman whose flight from Sugar Valley had created such a sensation in that section of the country. Chief Keller and Mrs. Parker took a cab and were driven to Alderman Anthony's office where they were joined shortly afterwards by Officer Martin and Mr. Zimmerman. The Alderman committed Zimmerman and Mrs. Parker to jail for a hearing this afternoon.

A crowd of nearly as many people as was at the depot had collected in front of the jail, to catch a glimpse of the elopers as they entered Fort Hoover.

This morning a photographer visited the jail for the purpose of photographing the couple but they positively declined to be "taken."

Two o'clock this afternoon was the hour fixed for the hearing before Alderman Anthony but no hearing was had. The case was continued until next Wednesday. In default of bail Mr. Zimmerman and Mrs. Parker were committed to jail.—Lock Haven Exress.

Harper's Round Table.

Harper's Round Table dated November 12th, the second issue of the new volume, will contain, besides its many short stories and departments, several articles of especial interest. "On the Bridge of an Ocean Liner," by Franklin Matthews, is a description of the happenings on that little narrow platform, from which every part of a great ship is controlled. William Hamilton Gibson, the well-known author and lecturer, will contribute an article on "The Floundering Beetle," with a minute study of this little insect's interesting ways. A new series, "Stories of Presence of Mind," will be represented by its first instalment, entitled "In the Tower of Berkeley Manor," a story based on actual facts and containing quite as much interest as is suggested by the title of the series. A poem by Margaret E. Sangster, called "Zintka Lanuni" (meaning Lost Bird), describes a little Indian girl, the only survivor of the Wounded Knee fight. Elizabeth Bisland tells how girls can come to New York to live and find employment—a companion article to one of a similar nature for boys published a week or so ago.

Struck Gas at the Beaver Home.

Beaver, Pa., Nov. 10.—Acting under a law passed by the last Legislature, the Poor board of this county gave William Long the privilege of putting down a well at the county home here. He has struck a gasser that promises to have a pressure of 400 pounds. This will more than supply the home with light and fuel, for which Mr. Long will get $400 per year. At another well he struck a big flow and it will be piped to the home free of charge.

HAD HIS THROAT CUT.

Tom Brown, an Ex-Convict. The Victim May Die.

Two months ago Tom Brown came down from Sing Sing, where he had been for two years and six months for assaulting a canal boat captain. He went to live with his wife and thirteen-year-old daughter Maggie, at 614 East 106th street New York. He found a little work as 'longshoreman.

Last night he came home drunk and Maggie, who had been trying to get him to sign the pledge, again pleaded with him and got him to go with her up to the Italian church, near First avenue. He said he would take the pledge.

Father Anthony, to whom Maggie led her father, was exceedingly busy and told Maggie and her father that they would have to come again on Monday night. The two left the church and started home.

On the way down the avenue Brown collected $2.50 which was owing to him. After he he met three friends, James Brown James Mulligan and George Berry.

Brown told his friends he had been to take the pledge, and had been unable to do so. His friends told him if he couldn't take the pledge that night he could take a drink, and they induced him to go into the saloon. Brown sent Maggie around the corner to their house.

The men had drinks and got to arguing. They hit on the subject of female pugilism, and that led to a fight. Chairs and glasses were thrown about, and the row ended when the barkeeper was forced to put them all out in the st

They fought their way across to the opposite corner, where other men joined in Maggie in the meantime was watching the fight not far away.

All at once she saw her father fall to the ground. Everybody tried to get away and people near by say they saw a man known as "Heinzy" run with a knife in his hand. Brown couldn't get up.

Before his three companions could get away they were caught by two policemen. The three men wore locked up in the station house. They denied the cutting.

Brown was taken unconscious to the Harlem Hospital. He had a cut three inches long in his throat. It was not known whether he could live.

Maggie had to go home alone.

What It Comprises.

The Tennessee Centennial Exposition will comprise twenty main buildings of from 40,000 to 125,000 square feet area, in the centre of which will stand upon a terrace an exact reproduction of the famous Parthenon at Athens with an heroic stature of Minerva before it. These main buildings will contain a vast array of curiosities, arts, manufactures and resources of the world. All the walks will be constructed of asphalt. On the grounds there will be lakes, one of fifteen acres, a running stream and an overshot water-wheel, at least five specially attractive fountains, to be operated by electricity and four designed by artists of wide reputation and many smaller ones. The electrical effects will embrace the latest inventions in displays, among them being a crown of incandescent lights revolving upon a steel tower 300 feet high and spelling the words "Tennessee Centennial, 1896." Near the main entrance will be erected entirely of Tennessee marble an arch sixty feet high and of sixty feet span, and there will be a building constructed of Tennessee coal and covered with slate from Tennessee. The music and amusement features will be of the most striking character.

Premature

is deplorably prevalent in this nineteenth century. Thousands die annually — young in years, but as completely worn out as though the full allotment of their time had passed over their heads. The man who feels that he is "breaking down," experiences loss of strength, sleep, and appetite, should at once take that greatest of concentrated food preparations. It is not a medicine, but a builder-up of brain, nerve, and flesh tissue. By its strength-giving properties, and its action as an invigorator of each of the great life-maintaining organs of the body, it stops the decline, and gives to the prematurely broken-down sufferer a new lease of life, wherein poor health is an unnecessary adjunct if its use is continued.

PROGRESS IN ROUMANIA.

No Dynastic Revolutions Have Been Threatened.

Nations which have no history, we are told, may be considered happy. Such certainly is the case with Roumania. While her neighbors in the Balkans have been incessantly disturbed, she has for some years pursued her way in the most peaceful and quiet manner imaginable. No dynastic revolutions have been threatened. No rumors of foreign wars have been heard. No domestic scandals have been unearthed. The Kingdom has had no history, as history is too often written. It had, indeed, been well-nigh forgotten, in the tumult of Bulgar, and Serb, and Greek, and Turk, when the resignation, the other day, of the Catargin ministry recalled it and its affairs to mind.

The record of that ministry, beginning with its accession earl y in 1893, is one that may, however, justly be regarded as history, albeit not of the swash-buckling kind. These three and a half hears have been marked with progress and prosperity remarkable above that of most European states. Public finances have been in a healthy condition. Great public works of various kinds have been completed, or auspiciously undertaken. A vast system of peasant proprietorship in colonization of crown lands has been successfully executed. Great development of mineral wealth has been accomplished. Without any bluster or the imposition of any serious burden upon the people, the military power of the Kingdom has been increased. Bucharest has been almost impregnably fortified, and is to-day one of the strongest capitals in Europe. The army, always a highly efficient body, as Turks and Russians both well known, has been brought to a superb state of discipline and equipment. And finally Roumania has formally become a member of that great league of peace which is callod tripple, but is, in fact quadruple.

A Suggestion.

Cold weather is near at hand. When you sit down near a good warm fire and feel that life is worth living after all, try to think of the many who are so unfortunate as not to have any warm clothes and a good comfortable home. Put yourself in their place and then do as you would have people do to you—try to make them comfortable. You can give all the money in the universe to a church and hold your head as high as you please while you imagine people are talking about your generous gift, yet it will not be half as acceptable in the sight of God as a gift of kindness to some poor suffering mortal who is in need of it. Proclaim not your generosity. The One above will know it and judge it accordingly. A ton of coal given to a poor family will do you more good in the hereafter than twenty ear splitting temperance and charityl ectures which you may give.

Murder At Ben's Creek.

Portage, Pa., Nov. 6.—Yesterday morning about 12:30 Frank Visler, a Hungarian miner, went to the boarding house of Androe Melany, at Ben's Creek, stabbed and almost instantly killed Melany. He died in a few minutes after being stabbed, the weapon entering between the third and fourth ribs. Melany was 28 years old and was employed by the Sonman Shaft Coal company, and leaves a wife and one child in Hungary. The murderer who was aged about 26 years made his escape. —Philipsburg Journal.

Thrown Open to the Public.

Pittsburg, Nov. 6.—Pittsburg is now in full possession of her Carnegie library, music hall, art gallery and museum, an instution that has no known parallel in the world. No function of any nature. whatever, has been so eagerly awaited by the elite of the community, and never before has there been such a wild scramble for admittance tickets. The noble temple was thrown open to the public early this morning and throughout the day the halls and galleries were thronged with admiring visitors.

Collided in the Fog.

Beaver Falls, Pa., Nov. 6.—In the fog this morning a fast freight train on the Pittsburg and Erie railroad crashed into a construction train loaded with Italians laborers at Homewood. Engineer Steen and Fireman Smith, of the freight train, were painfully cut when they jumped. Michael Monahan, a section hand, was knocked into the Beaver river and was badly injured. Some of the Italians plunged into the river and others scrambled up the rocks, but n one were hurt.

One Man Was Drowned.

Williamsport, Pa., Nov. 6.—Thomas Venenom, aged 22 years, was drowned at Nisbet this morning while attempting to swim the river to avoid capture at the hands of a number of irate railroad laborers whose dinner pails he and two companions had been despoiling. The men were tramps and had been caught in the act of robbing the bucket. They were chased into the river and in attempting to swim across Venenom was drowned. The others escaped.

Repairing the Main.

Supt. Samuel Ryan, with a force of men were working late on Friday evening repairing the water main at the corner of Spring and Allegheny streets.

THEY ELOPED.

But are Now in the Custody of Pittsburg Police.

The Lock Haven Democrat of Thursday says: The usual quiet town of Loganton was worked up to high pitches of excitement this morning over the elopement of a married man and a married women from that place. The man in the case is Jerome Zimmerman, a man about 42 years old, and has a wife and several children. The woman whom he induced to leave her lawfully wedded husband is Mrs. Parker, wife of W. C. Parker. In addition to forsaking her husband she also left two sons. Her age is also about 42 years. For some time back Zimmerman has been selling his effects and had gathered together between $400 and $500 for the purpose, as he stated, of moving his family to the south. His wife this week bade her friends good bye and everything was in readiness for their departure, which was to have been taken during the next few days.

Last night W. C. Parker, a neighbor of the Zimmerman's about 11 o'clock found that his wife was missing from the borough. A search was instituted, when it was learned that Mrs. Parker was not only missing, but that Zimmerman also had gone, and had left his family without any money. Mr. Parker came to this city this morning and stated the case to Chief Keller. Inquiries were made at the railroad station and it was learned that Zimmerman and Mrs. Parker had purchased tickets for Atchison, Kan., and that they had left on the early train on the Bald Eagle Valley railroad this morning. Chief Keller called the Pittsburg chief of police by telephone, and directed that official to arrest the elopers, upon their arrival in that city about noon.

Mr. Parker states that the attachment that must have existed between the guilty pair was a surprising revelation to im. Zimmerman, he says, frequently came to his house as a neighbor, but he never saw anything in his action that would indicate that he had stolen his wife's affections.

LATER.

This afternoon at 2.45 o'clock Chief Keller received a telegram from Roger O'Mara superintendent of police, Pittsburg, which was as follows: "Have Jerome Zimmenman Susan Parker in custody. Send officer for them."

Chief Keller will send an officer on the 4.10 o'clock this afternoon to bring the couple back.

Six Children Dead.

We last week announced the death of Annie, the oldest daughter of Daniel Ziegler, of Millheim. This, we are informed, is the sixth of his children that have died, the five that went before being in their younger years. The seventh is now the only surviving child of the family. A sad affliction, but a consolation that they are in a better world. We deeply sympathize with our friend Daniel and Mrs. Ziegler in these many bereavements.—Reporter.

A NOBLE LIFE

SPENT FOR AND WITH SUFFERING WOMEN.

A Life's Work Perpetuated through a Faithful Daughter, and Records of Priceless Value.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

What a vast amount of misery and suffering has been prevented by the clear-headed foresight of one noble woman!

She had struggled, labored, and sacrificed for the welfare of her sex.

The eyes of the women of the world were upon her.

As she recalled the past, and tried to penetrate the future, a smile of supreme satisfaction passed over her honest face as she remembered that her life's work would be perpetuated.

The room in which she sat contained hundreds of volumes of records; and, turning to her daughter, she said, —

"My daughter, this room, as you well know, contains the records of my life's work, in which for many years you have so diligently assisted me.

"By earnest application you have compassed my methods; and it is a happiness to think that when I leave, the glorious work will, through you, go on.

"The mission is a noble one. Do as I have done: never permit a woman's appeal to go unheeded.

"These records tell of every case ever submitted to me; and it is my wish that the facts they contain shall in time prove a much-needed education to the women of the world."

Thus did Lydia E. Pinkham hand over to her daughter, Mrs. Charles H. Pinkham, what may be termed the salvation of her sex; and that wonderful remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which all druggists consider as standard as flour, goes on redeeming hundreds of women from the fearful consequences of female diseases.

WAS SAVED FROM LYNCHERS.

Plucky Constables Rescue a Tramp From Angry Men.

Stroudsburg, Pa., Nov. 7.—The determination shown by two constables yesterday saved Monroe county the disgrace of another lynching and preserved the life of a tramp from the hands of a crowd of infuriated farmers, who sought to hang him for attempting to assault a woman. He is named Reese Jenkins. He called at the farm house of William Miller, in Jackson township, and Mrs. Miller gave him his dinner. When he had finished the meal he asked Mrs. Miller for thread and needle to sew on a button with. As the woman turned to procure the articles Jenkins sprang upon her. Mrs. Miller had her young child in her arms and Jenkins tore the baby from her grasp and threw it upon the floor. His purpose was evident and Mrs. Miller began a desperate struggle for her honor. Becoming infuriated at her resistance, Jenkins seized a knife and threatened to kill her. The threat gave Mrs. Miller renewed strength and she struggled more furiously than ever and continued to scream for help. Jenkins became alarmed and fled.

As soon as Mrs. Miller had sufficiently recovered, she gave the alarm, and a body of armed men started on the tramp's trail. Jenkins avoided the pursuit of the lynchers, but fell into the hands of Constable Kresge. Fearing a lynching, Kresge got the help of another constable to bring Jenkins to jail here. The constables and their prisoner were in a buggy about starting for the jail, when a crowd of 50 men came upon them. A rope told better than words the crowd's intention.

Jenkins realized his danger, and, groveling at the bottom of the buggy, begged the constables to save his life. The constables drew their revolvers, but the lynchers made a rush for the buggy. The whip was applied, and the startled horse sprang forward, and plunging through the crowd, quickly bore the occupants of the vehicle out of pursuit, and Jenkins was safely landed in jail, where he was identified by Mrs. Miller and admitted his guilt. He says he comes from Pittston, Pa.

Smith is Superior Judge.

Philadelphia, Nov. 7.—The full vote in 46 counties, including Philadelphia, Allegheny, Lackawanna, Montgomery, Bucks, Westmoreland and other big counties, gives Smith 2,669 majority over Yerkes for Superior court judge. These two are ahead of their ticket.

The full vote of these counties for the Democratic candidates for Superior judge is: Smith, 202,134; Yerkes, 199,485; Magee, 196,280; Bechtel, 193,981; Noyes 193,683; Moorhead, 191.547. In Luzerne county, which is not included in the 46, Smith has 13.050 and Yerkes 12,056. This will increase Smith's apparent majority over Yerkes to 3,643.

To Wed a Millionaire Girl.

Providence, R. I., Nov. 7.—George D. Titcomb, the proprietor of a lunch cart, and Miss Grace Mabel Hawes, a daughter of Roland G. Hawes, a millionaire, are to be married November 12. The Hawes millions were bequeathed by Lorenzo Hawes three years ago and after young Titcomb and Miss Hawes had plighted their troth. Titcomb stuck to his perambulating restaurant until he built up a paying business, and now the millionaire has given his consent to his daughter's marriage.

High Honor for a Negro.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 8.—James C. Matthews, colored, formerly recorder of deeds at Washington, under President Cleveland's first administration, has been elected judge of the recorder's court of this city, which carries with it the power of a supreme court judge. His majority is over 2,000. He was nominated and elected on the regular Democratic ticket. This is the highest judicial office ever held by a negro in this country.

Where Snow Come Down.

Black River Falls, Wis., Nov. 7.—A snow storm has been raging throughout this section of the state the entire morning and about four and a half inches have fallen, being the first snow storm of the season. The forest fires are completely quenched, being buried under four inches of damp snow.

—This is Indian summer.

EX-SENATOR THURMAN DYING.

One of the Leading Democrats of the Country Seriously Ill.

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 8.—Last Friday ex-Senator Allan G. Thurman fell from a sofa in his library and suffered an injury to his left hip which was very painful at the time, but his physician found no bones broken, and though he suffered severely on Saturday he was better on Sunday, and it was believed that his strong constitution would enable him to stand the shock notwithstanding his great age.

On Tuesday he was so much better that he wished to go to the polls to vote, but on the advice of his physician he did not do so. Wednesday he was much worse and yesterday he fell into a stupor from which it is altogether likely he will not recover.

His son, Allan W. Thurman, said at noon to-day that there was little ground to hope that he will live more than a few days agd his death may occur at any time.

Allan G. Thurman was born in Lynchburg, Va., Nov. 13, 1813, so that he will be 82 years old if he lives to next Wednesday.

In 1844 he married Mary Dun, of Kentucky, by whom he had three children, two daughters and a son. Mrs. Thurman died in 1891, but the three children survive.

At 11 o'clock to-night the condition of Judge Thurman was somewhat improved. Dr. Whittaker, his physician, does not now think there is ony immediate danger of death. Judge Thurman's condition is that of collapse, and the physician says it is altogether improbable that he will survive long. No bones were broken by the fall and only the wound noticeable is a slight abrasion over the hip bone. In a young person the accident would have been trivial.

No lover of the beautiful in art in America, and no artist anywhere—amateur or professional—will fail to be interested in Toe Monthly Illustrator and Home and Country for November. The number contains 156 illustrations. Certainly nothing to compare with it in the magazine world, here or abroad, has heretofore been issued. The table of contents is grand. In variety of subjects it cannot well be excelled. Delightfully American, with just enough of a foreign flavor to add zest, the latest issue of this popular magazine is a revelation.

In "English Fads and Fancies," by Thomas Campbell-Copeland, illustrated from drawings by George Du Maurier; "Kiku, the Royal Flower of Japan," by Lillian E. Purdy, illustrated from photos of living chrysanthemums, by A. T. Spauldings and "Cuxhaven to Constantinople," by C. W. Allers, illustrated from drawings by the author, there is a feast for the intellect and the sight, which is really enjoyable. And all its other features are equally so.

Issued by The Monthly Illustrator Publishing Company, Joseph W. Kay, President 149-153 Leonard Street, New York. Subscription, $2 a year.

Lost By Forest Fires.

Patriot: Dr. J. T. Rothrock, state forestry commissioner, has issued a circular letter to the county commissioners of Pennsylvania stating that the prolonged drouth justifies some special effort this season to avert an unusual and alarming destruction of property. He says the annual direct loss to this commonwealth by forest fires exceeds a million of dollars. Most of these fires owe their origin to ignorance, carelessness or maliciousness. The consequences of these fires fall with peculiar severity upon thousands of farmers whose holdings are surrounded by woods. In some instances, almost the whole of their fences are destroyed, and there are regions where a year seldom passes without some such destructive visitation. Besides the loss of property the work upon the farms is suspended and often additional hands are hired to guard property. Such an instance has recently been furnished in Logan township, Huntingdon county, where almost the entire community was engaged in fighting fire day and night for nearly an entire week, and where, in spite of this, the loss to individual farmers has in some cases been very heavy.

Crushed His Ankle.

Renovo Record: Monday while John Schmidt was briving a load of stone from Drury's Run to Renovo, his horses while coming down Stouts' hill, took fright at an engine and became unmanageable. Mr. Schmidt was thrown under the wheels of the wagon. His left ankle was so badly crushed that amputation of the foot was necessary.

MERCURIAL POISON

Is the result of the usual treatment of blood disorders. The system is filled with Mercury and Potash remedies—more to be dreaded than the disease—and in a short while is in a far worse condition than before. The most common result is for which S. S. S. is the most reliable cure. A few bottles will afford relief where all else has failed.

I suffered from a severe attack of Mercurial Rheumatism, my arms and legs being swollen to more than twice their natural size, causing the most excruciating pains. I spent hundreds of dollars without relief, but after taking a few bottles of S. S. S. I improved rapidly, and am now as well as ever, completely cured. I can heartily recommend your wonderful medicine to anyone afflicted with this painful disease.

CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."
DR. G. C. OSGOOD, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interests of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
DR. J. F. KINCHELOE, Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."
H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

A Small Judicious Investment Often Brings a Fortune.

DEAR READERS:

We have heard from many of you during the brief period that our advertisement appeared in this space. Any others desiring full reports and statements can secure same by writing to us.

The further opening up of the South Central group of gold mines, and the erection of a Stamp Mill to reduce the company's ore to bullion, is a square, legitimate use of capital.

1. Mr. Barry, formerly of Cripple Creek, the Bonanza gold camp of Colorado, sold his interests there, and bought the Morning Star gold mine, a producer in the vicinity of the South Central group.

2. Captain Plummer, formerly of the Granite Mountain mine, is now working the Delamar Mine, a large producer in the vicinity of the South Central group.

As the Granite Mountain (Gold and Silver Mining Co.) stock rose from about twelve cents a share to over $50 a share, and paid from 25 cents to 50 cents per share per month in dividends, under the superintendency of Captain Plummer, we consider him a pretty safe guide to follow in mining, and we invite you to participate in the investment.

Rec.—"Honor," Lillian Rankin.

Essay—"The Streets of Bellefonte," Allen Rumberger.

Dec.—"Outward Conduct," Harry Smith.

After Millers.

The Centre Reporter says: J. D. Wagner, miller at Pinegrove Mills, a few days ago received notice to pay the sum of $100 to the patentee of the middlings process that is now in use in nearly every mill in the United States. It seems that a patent was obtained for separating the middlings from the bran about 1878, and in a very short time nearly every mill in the U. S. took advantage of the process, thus infringing on the rights of the patentee and by the decision of the United States supreme court, every mill using the process shall pay the sum of $100 to the patentee.

A Great Game.

The foot ball game on Saturday, Nov. 16, between the Academy and Williamsport High School elevens will be one of the most exciting games ever played in Bellefonte. The Williamsport boys have already an enviable reputation and they are coming up to "do us up" in short order. The Academy boys are practicing daily and will be in fair trim by Saturday. The citizens should help the boys out by contributing something to help defray the visitors' expenses.

Unclaimed Letters.

The following letters remain in the Bellefonte P. O. uncalled for Nov. 11th, 1895.

Mrs. K. Austen, Geo. Andrews (2), John Couer, R. S. Craig, Lillie M. Houtz (2) Mitchell F. Hoover, R. J. Keller, Miles C. Mickley, Carrie Miller, Tin Chin Pan, Reuben Rishel, Thos. Seamehorn, Sam'l. Shumaker.

When called for please say advertised.

D. F. FORTNEY, P. M.

A Select Ball.

The Fourth Annual Select Ball of the Undine Fire company No. 2 will be held in the Bush Arcade Hall on Thanksgiving Eve Wednesday evening Nov. 27. The music will be furnished by the Undine Orchestra. The Band Concert will be at 8.30; and the Grand March at 9 o'clock.

Repairing the Street.

Street Commissioner Thomas Shaughensy has a force of men employed in repairing Allegheny street in front of the Brockerhoff House. Crushed cinder is being put in to fill up the holes in the street and the loose dirt scraped up and hauled away. It is a big improvement to the appearance of the street and this example should be followed out around town.

Sentenced for Three Years.

Edward Hannahan and James O'Neil, the two men who robbed the postoffice at Roland on June 13, and were subsequently arrested in Bellefonte by Officer Garis, were tried in the United States court at Pittsburg and found guilty. Last week they were sentenced each to three years in the penitentiary.

Married on Tuesday.

By a pretty wedding ceremoney Tuesday morning Patrick J. Fitzpatrick of Tyrone and Miss Grace Tanyer of Julian were made man and wife. They spent the day in town and left this evening for an extended wedding tour.

Missionary Social.

A missionary social will be held in the Presbyterian chapel on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

BURIED AT OAK HALL.

Funeral Services Over the Remains of Samuel Gilliland.

The funeral services over the remains of Samuel Gilliland were held at his late residence at Oak Hall at 10 o'clock this morning. Revs. Hepley, of Lemont, and Wright of Milesburg, officiated, and the interment was made at the Slab Creek cemetery on the Branch. The pall-bearers were David Cambell, William Bell, of Bellefonte; Leonard Rhone, George Williams, of Lemont, and the Messrs. Gilliland, of Clearfield. The deceased was well known throughout the county, and his funeral was attended by a large number of friends. He was the father of the wife of Hammond Sechler, of this place, and a special train conveyed many of our townsmen to attend the last rites of one whom they had known so well. Everybody from miles around were garhered at the grief-stricken homestead and the concourse that followed the cortege to the grave was large and deeply affected. In the death of Mr. Gilliland the people of Oak Hall and vicinity have suffered a loss that will be keenly felt. The deceased was an old landmark and his kindness to his neighbors and everybody with whom he came in contact with will be sadly missed.

Why Do You Live?

"I live for those who love me,
For those who know me true.
For the heavens that bend above me,
And the good that I can do."
But O, that fate would give me.
And hundreds say so too,
Some safe and potent agency
That would my health renew.

Of course then you would be more useful to your fellowmen. Well, that wished for agency is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. There is nothing that can compare with the "Discovery" as a cureative agent for sour stomach, constipation, impure blood, biliousness, liver and kidney troubles, Pierce guarantees a cure.

Died at Aaronsburg.

A sudden death was that of John H. Musser, aged 68 years, who lives at Aaronsburg, on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock of heart failure. He had been feeling as well as could be expected considering the reduced condition of his system owing to a cancer on his arm. He had been out to dinner with a friend and immediately upon returning home he expired. The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock on Thursday morning. The deceased was the father of Mrs. W. T. Meyer, of this place.

Married Tuesday Morning.

A pretty wedding was that performed at 9 30 o'clock Tuesday morning by Rev. A. A. Black, of Boalsburg, which united the lives of Daniel B. Garey and Susan C. Wise, both of Boalsburg. There were but a few witnesses and after partaking of a good feast the happy pair departed for their honey moon. We wish them much success and happiness throughout their married life. The wedding was performed at Garman's hotel.

Remove That Cabbage.

At a meeting of the board of health held Wednesday evening, November 6, the following motion was adopted, viz: That some constable be authorized and ordered to make a complaint before any justice of the peace of the nuisance existing on the car works dam in the shape of a field of decayed cabbage, and to proceed against the parties liable for the same according to law.

H. C. QUIGLEY, Secretary.

Protect Your Implements.

It is cheaper to provide a place for the tools and implements than permit them to be exposed to all kinds of weather. Rust on tools is costly, as it increases friction and labor. Any tool, implement or machine that is not protected from dampness will not again prove satisfactory when used. The cost of repairs to tools is quite an item on some farms, and much of the expense for such repairs is due to lack of care to the implements.

New Officers Elected.

At a meeting of the Ladie's Auxiliary o the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon in the Presbyterian chapel, the following new officers were elected: Miss Ella Levy, President, Miss Nannie Hoy, Secretary and Miss Ella Twitmyer, Treasurer. The meeting was conducted by J. W. Gephart, President of the Y. M. C. A. and great things may be looked for from the ladies in this work.

Wine For Weakly Persons.

Weakly persons use Speer's port Grape Wine and the Unfermented Grape Juice because it gives tone and strength to the system. It is superior to all other wines.

A PRETTY WEDDING.

Two of Bellefonte's Young People United in Matrimony.

At 6.30 Tuesday evening a very pretty but strictly private wedding was performed at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. James Gramley on Bishop street. The contracting parties were their daughter Mable, and Mr. Hubert Bartly. Rev. G. E. Zehner of the Evangelical church pronounced the words that made them man and wife. Only the families of the bride and groom were present but nevertheless it was indeed a happy gathering. After the wedding the happy couple started on their wedding tour to eastern cities. They will go to housekeeping in Bellefonte immediately upon their return. The bride is the charming daughter of ex-county Treasurer Gramley and since coming to Bellefonte has made many fast friends. The groom is the efficient printer at the Gazette office and is well known and liked throughout the community. We truly wish the newly married couple a prosperous and happy future.

Human Bones Found.

Considerable excitement was created in and about Penfield last week occasioned by the finding of some human bones, The Express says J. L. Scofield brought some human bones that were found at Penfield to Du Bois. They are in his possession at the National hotel. There is a part of the skull and of the ijaw containing a tooth. The piece contained several teeth, but some were lost out as Mr. Scofield carried them up to Du Bois in his pocket. A man in Penfield had a part of the skeleton of one man when he went home. His wife found the bones and threw them out of the back door. The gentleman found some of them but mourns the loss of the rest. It is supposed from the state of preservation the bones are in that they have been in the ground probably over a century. A large earthen pipe was also found with skeletons. It is very likely the bones are those of some Indian.

An Important Office.

To properly fill its office and functions, it is important that the blood is pure. When in such a condition, the body is almost certain to be healthy. A complaint at this time is catarrh in some of its various forms. A slight cold develops the disease in the head. Droppings of corruption passing into the lungs bring on consumption. The only way to cure this disease is to purify the blood. The most obstinate cases of catarrh yield to the medicinal powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla as if by magic, simply because it reaches the seat of the disease, and by purifying and vitilizing the blood, removes the cause. Not only does Hood's Sarsaparilla do this but it gives renewed vigor to the whole system, making it possible for good health to reign supreme.

Killed a Bear With Bird Shot.

Williamsport Bulletin: While hunting pheasants on Bennett's island, below Waterville, Saturday, William Jones, of Waterville, encountered four black bears, a full grown one and three good sized cubs. Mr. Jones' shells were loaded with bird shot, with the exception of two, which contained buckshot. He opened fire on the largest bear with the latter, wounding it, and coolly retreating, kept pumping shot into it until it turned up its claws. He also wounded one of the cubs, but it escaped. The dead bear, dressed, weighed two hundred pounds.

A Narrow Escape.

On Sunday afternoon John Sourbeck had an experience that might have caused his death. He has a small oil stove in his parlor to heat the room. He was trying to "blow out the fire" when as he says "the pesky thing exploded" with a report as loud as that of a rifle. The flames shot up in the air to the ceiling before the fire could be extinguished and the result was that Mr. Sourbeck had his face scorched in several places.

Intemperance Among Women.

There is much said about the growing habit of intemperance among women; perhaps more than the facts would warrant. If this habit exists it is owing to the fact that women are often forced to perform domestic, and social duties under great physical suffering, and by partaking of liquors for temporary relief or a little protraction of strength, the habit becomes a necessity. If all ladies who suffer with the complaints peculiar to their sex, would take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, they would find nature's restoratives and the evil results of pernicious drugs and liquors would be avoided. For all cases of nervous and general debility, sleeplessness, spasms, periodical pains, suppressions and irregularities, it is the only medicine so certain in curative action that it can be guaranteed to benefit or cure or money refunde
